ASST. CITY ENGINEER JAILED FOR TAX FRAUD

District Attorney Johnston in Quick Action Causes Arrest of Official and Expert Is Put in Office to Check Monies

WALTER HUGHES FACES SERIOUS ALLEGATIONS

Chief of Police Charles Walker Holds Suspect in Custody As Receipts of Land Owners for Coin Paid Are in Evidence

RICHMOND, Nov. 4.—Charges of falsifying public records will be brought against Assistant City Engineer Walter Hughes, when the Grand Jury meets next Wednesday, according to an announcement made from District Attorney Thomas D. Johnston today.

Hughes was arrested last night on the same charge, on a warrant sworn to by City Auditor J. A. McVittie. The complaint charged him with altering city records and raising figures on the sewer assessments in the Pullman district. The arrest was accomplished quietly and caused a sensation when it became known today. Hughes is being held in default of $10,000 bail.

The Assistant City Engineer, denies that he has been guilty of a criminal action. He blames his predicament on a clerical error which he alleges he discovered himself. The $225, which Hughes is charged with having added to the assessment sheet, for his own purposes, he says was "a mistake." In the meantime, expert accountants are at work going over the city's books.

SYSTEM ALLEGED.

The system which Hughes is accused of having worked inside the city street work. When a company in which Hughes is charged with having been interested would win the bid, Hughes, it is claimed, would destroy the tally sheets on which the bids were submitted and raise the figures. Then he would send out the contractors with the assessment sheets, based upon the altered figures, and the contractors would hand him back a rebate.

The Walter Raven Construction Company of Richmond, which is the bid on the Pullman district sewer construction, Raven himself denies all knowledge of the $225 overcharge, which Hughes is alleged to have added to the bid after they were submitted. He says he submitted a bid for his company, was awarded the contract, and received the assessment sheet from Hughes upon which he made his collections.

The alleged alteration of records was discovered yesterday, it is said, when City Auditor McVittie, in comparing the figures on the assessment sheets of work performed by Raven on May 22 and the Pullman sewers, discovered a discrepancy. He immediately called District Attorney Johnston into conference, and after going over the matter, it was decided to have McVittie swear to the complaint upon which Hughes was arrested yesterday.

WIDELY KNOWN.

Hughes is widely known around the bay district, not only in Richmond, but in Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley as well, where he has numerous friends in fraternal circles. He was married about six months ago to a girl who it is rumored was formerly engaged to Speaker Champ Clark's son. Hughes has been assistant under City Engineer H. D. Chapman for the past three years and is under $5000 security bonds to Chapman.

Friends are endeavoring to secure the $10,000 bail necessary to secure Hughes' release.

LIEUTENANT WINS HAND OF DOROTHY CAPWELL

MISS DOROTHY CAPWELL, WHOSE ENGAGEMENT TO LIEUTENANT REGINALD BIFFORD COCROFT, U. S. A., HAS BEEN ANNOUNCED BY MR. AND MRS. H. C. CAPWELL, IS STATIONED AT FORT MONROE, VIRGINIA.

Daughter of Merchant Announces Her Engagement to Army Man

The outcome of another army romance in one of the prominent families of the city is the announcement from Fort Monroe, Va., of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Capwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Capwell, and Lieutenant Reginald Bifford Cocroft of the Coast Artillery Corps of the United States Army.

Miss Capwell, who is one of the most popular belles of east bay society, is the sister of Mrs. Philip Seydel, the wife of Lieutenant Seydel, U. S. A., and for the past few months has been visiting at Fort Monroe, where the Seydels are stationed. Lieutenant Cocroft, best man at the brilliant wedding of Miss Phyllis Capwell and Lieutenant Seydel two years ago, is also stationed at the Virginia post. For the past six weeks Miss Capwell and Mrs. H. C. Capwell have been expected back, but the announcement proceeded them.

Lieutenant Cocroft is the son of a well-known minister, now deceased, of Providence, R. I. Since his graduation from West Point he has been stationed at the Philippines and later, before transferring to Fort Monroe, was attached to Fort Scott. His next post will be at Narragansett, R. I.

Mrs. Capwell and Miss Dorothy Capwell are expected back early in December.

Cruelty to Ask Wife to Account for Money

Mrs. Marie Hendricksen thought she had been so cruelly treated by her husband, John Hendricksen, when he asked her what she had done with $20 which he had given her a short time before, that she filed suit for divorce. Judge William Conley, sitting in Judge T. W. Harris' court today, failed to agree with her that Hendricksen had been cruel, and he refused to give her a decree. He gave her a month in which to procure additional evidence to prove that she had been subjected to cruel treatment by having Dr. Charles L. McVey take the stand and testify that her husband's treatment had made her nervous. Dr. McVey, however, merely testified that Mrs. Hendricksen was at all times a nervous person.

Turks Care for Graves at Request of Pope

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Cardinal Amette, archbishop of Paris, has received a letter from the Vatican informing him that, in response to a request by Pope Benedict that the graves of French and English soldiers who fell on Gallipoli peninsula should be cared for piously, the Turkish minister of war has had photographs taken of all burial places of such soldiers and has sent them to the Pope. The photographs, the letter adds, will be placed on view at the Vatican for inspection by relatives and friends of those who fell in the Dardanelles campaign.

Yeggs Rob Bank in Calgary of $10,000

CALGARY, Alberta, Nov. 4.—After cutting all wires leading into Okotoks, forty miles from here, today, yegmen jealously dynamited the Merchants' Bank there and escaped with $10,000.

MINER SPOKE SUNK.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The Wilson Liner Spero of 1,132 tons gross, has been sunk, according to a despatch from Hull to the Daily Mail. The Spero was 250 feet long, 30 feet beam and 15 feet deep. The vessel was built in 1906 and was owned by the T. Wilson Sons and Co., Limited of Hull.

BREAD TO GO UP; THREATEN PRICE FIGHT

Six Cents for Small Loaf of the "Staff of Life" Will Go Into Effect Monday, Which May Cause Rupture With Bakers

Retail Grocers' Association Members Largest Distributors of Commodity, Likely to Quit Handling Commodity

Six cents for a small loaf of the "staff of life" in retail stores commencing Monday may result in a rupture between the wholesale bakers and the members of the retail grocers' association, the grocers claiming that as the principal distributors of bread they cannot handle the commodity on the small margin of profit left to them when charged five cents and ten cents for loaves by the wholesaler.

Protest has been filed by the retail grocers with the Alameda County Bakers' Association which will act upon the matter at a meeting to be held tonight at the Hotel Oakland. The MAY REFUSE TO HANDLE BREAD. E. S. Hogan, secretary of the Grocers' Association, said today that "We all prosper together," he added, "or we won't prosper at all." Hughes expressed himself as confident of being elected and said that he did not propose to deal with the international situation "in an academic" way. "I came into public life," declared Hughes, "as the enemy of abuses and special privileges. I am just the same man today as when I was governor of New York."

MAINTAINING HONOR.

Hughes in his first series of five noon-day campaign speeches here today, declared that "rights cease to be rights if they are not enforced." He said that "there will be no lasting peace if the nation's honor is not maintained."

"There has been of late, it seems to me, a growing tide of sentiment in this country," he said. "The American people know very well what rights are essential to their welfare. They are not likely to be deceived by any delusive statements with respect to either peace or prosperity."

"There will be no lasting peace if the nation's honor is not maintained. There is no lasting security unless American rights are not less maintained throughout the world. Our peace depends on the confidence and esteem which we secure and hold by justice, firmness, by courtesy and by the manifestation of that courageous and indomitable spirit which gave us our country and preserved the integrity of our country."

PROTECTION OF RIGHTS.

"That is not the path of war; that is the way to maintain our self-respect. Rights cease to be rights if they are not enforced. It is not that we should have a policy of aggression, it is not that we should make a brag-gart assertion of our claims, that we should go through the world boasting and truckling; but it is that wherever our flag flies, the American citizen who is lawfully pursuing his work should know that it is the symbol of full protection to him, exercising his rights wherever he may happen to be, whether it is on land or on the high seas."

"There are those who attempt to make political capital out of the prosperity we now enjoy. Every man knows how suddenly it arose and how suddenly it is likely to depart. Our friends on the other side made very eloquent promises. The promises they made now could not be more eloquent than those they made four years ago."

PROMISES TO NO AVOID.

"They told us they were going to achieve extraordinary things. They were going to reduce the cost of living; they were going to increase the opportunities for labor; they were going to provide adequate revenue for the government through their new system; they were going to afford new opportunities to American enterprise."

"They have not touched the cost of living; that inseparable companion, that unwelcome guest, the high cost of living, is still with us, a little higher and a little stronger than ever before. Instead of reducing the cost of living, the opportunities for making a living were reduced. We have not forgotten the condition which obtained twenty-three months ago. What is the reason for the present prosperity?"

"The reason," Mr. Hughes said, "lay in the European war and the demands for American goods created by the war." The nominee went into details as to conditions abroad retreating that the industrial plants of most of the belligerent nations "had not been touched" by the war and that Europe would be better organized and better disciplined after the war than ever before.

FEAR OF AFTERMATH.

"Does any one tell us that Americans need not fear the competition which will ensue when the war is over?" Hughes asked. "Such suggestion must be deemed appropriate only when addressed to those who are unintelligent or have failed to follow the trend of affairs."

"What are we going to do about it? What are our opponents saying? Why they said let us be efficient and alert and alert and skillful; we must greatly improve in every direction, but we cannot in many of our industries hope to compete unless our labor is either protected or the wages fairly sized here and generous."

"We have got to have a condition in this country where industry is not dependent upon war orders. Why you can see today all through the land the men who will be laid off."

NEW YORK INVADDED BY HUGHES

Republican Nominee Attacks Wilson's Administration in Five Speeches Before a Big Gathering Men and Women

The Maintenance of American Rights Throughout the World and Opposition to Suspicion Against Business Men, Topic

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Charles E. Hughes, Republican candidate for President, invading the downtown business section of New York during noon today, made five speeches in which he attacked the Wilson administration, declared for the maintenance of American rights throughout the world and asserted he was "opposed to treating the American business man as a suspicious character."

Large crowds of business men and women on their way to and from luncheon today, cheered Hughes at every stop.

Hughes declared he did not want anybody to talk to him about class antagonism in this country "who does all in his power to stimulate class antagonism."

"We'll all prosper together," he added, "or we won't prosper at all."

Hughes expressed himself as confident of being elected and said that he did not propose to deal with the international situation "in an academic" way. Schmitz to Own Oakland Plant

Old Magnesite Works for Former Mayor

Eugene Schmitz, former Mayor of San Francisco, is to become a member of Oakland's industrial family, within the next few weeks, according to information received by the Manufacturing Committee of the Chamber of Commerce today.

Schmitz, backed by a coterie of San Francisco capitalists, operating under the name of the Sedan Calced Magnesite Company, has completed arrangements for the establishment of a new $50,000 plant at the foot of Powell street, near the main line on the site of an old carbonic acid gas plant. The ovens and machinery of the old plant will be used by the Schmitz concern in its magnesite work.

Long term power and gas contracts have been signed with the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. An option taken on the land some time ago was closed this week. It is understood that work on the establishing of the new concern will begin immediately. The plant is contiguous to two main manufacturing lines connections. The land on which it stands is the property of Eric Lindholm, the Swedish "King of Rome" who took $1,000,000 out of the sands in a short time during the conquest of the north.

Hundreds Perish When Steamers Collide in Gale

Only One Survivor of Disaster Off Coast of Ireland in Night

LONDON, Nov. 4.—In one of the worst gales ever known in the Irish sea, the British steamship Connemara, with passengers and a cargo of cattle from Greenore, Ireland for Holyhead, Wales, collided last night just outside the Carlingford bar with the British steamship Retriever, laden with coal. Both vessels sank immediately, with an estimated loss of life of about 100.

Of the fifty-one passengers and crew of thirty-one aboard the Connemara there is only one survivor. It is virtually certain there were no Americans on board. The entire crew of the Retriever was lost. Many bodies are being washed ashore on the Irish coast. Numbers of cattle also are being washed up, some alive.

The weather was so rough that it would have been impossible to launch any boats even had time permitted. A despatch from Newry, thirty-four miles southwest of Belfast, received by the London Times Association says there were about forty passengers from Newry on board the Connemara.

REPORTS FRAGMENTARY.

The only survivor thus far is a man named Boyle, a member of the Retriever's crew. He brought back the story of the disaster and prevented the disappearance of the two ships with the passengers and crew from becoming an untold sea mystery.

Only fragmentary reports of the disaster had reached London this afternoon. From these accounts it appears that the Connemara, of the London and Northwestern railway line, left Greenore about 10 p.m. yesterday evening for Holyhead, and collided with the inward-bound steamer Retriever a few miles off the Irish coast.

LIFEBOATS SMASHED.

Leaving Greenore, the ferry steamer ran into the tip of a violent hurricane. Plunging along through the darkness and storm with greater difficulty, the smaller Retriever, inbound for her home port of Newry, in Carlingford Lough, crashed into the Connemara. Apparently few of the Connemara's passengers had retired when the collision occurred.

Crews of both steamers apparently tried to launch the boats. Seaport towns near the scene of the disaster reported the sea tossing so violently last night that it was doubtful if a single boat was gotten over by either steamer. It appears certain that any boat put over either was crushed against the steamer's side or capsized. The Connemara was a small steamer of 833 tons, built in 1897 for the London and Northwestern railway for ferry service in the Irish sea. She was 272 feet long and had a 35-foot beam. Her port of registry was Dublin.

Allies' Loss on Somme 600,000, Says Berlin

BERLIN, Nov. 4.—Estimates of the Franco-British losses during the four months' offensive on the Somme front, emanating from German general headquarters in the west, give the losses in round numbers as 630,000. The survey places the British losses at 400,000 and those of the French at 150,000. The estimates, the survey says, are regarded as moderate in view of the fact that the British casualty lists admit losses of 372,000 to the end of September. The writer claims that each square mile of territory recovered cost the allies more than 5000 lives.

That the original purpose was to get through, the writer says, is shown by the prodigious scale of the preparation and the huge masses of cavalry held in readiness to begin the pursuit through the broken German lines.

Cowboys Defeat Band of Fifty Villistas

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, MEXICO, Nov. 4.—Cowboys from Rectoria ranch, operating with home guards from Nampulapa, defeated a force of fifty Villistas, killing several and capturing eleven, according to a report received today at field headquarters. The report says five of the prisoners declared they were forced to join the bandits in the Guerrero district. The fight took place near Santa Ana, about seventy-five miles south of the American camp at El Valle.

AUSTRIAN LOSSES IN TWO DAYS ARE 39,000

Italians Continue Offensive in Carso Region, Advancing Toward the Wippach River in Spite of Desperate Opposition

BOTH SIDES CLAIM GAIN IN RUMANIA

Germans Take by Storm Main Positions Russians Have Held on Narayuvaka River, and Repulse Assaults West

ROME, Nov. 4.—Continuing their new offensive against the Austro-Hungarian forces in the Carso region the Italians have advanced in the direction of the Wippach river for a distance of more than one kilometer. During yesterday the Italians took 553 prisoners.

In the two days of the new Italian offensive, the Austrians lost 39,000 men. The losses are said to have been distributed as follows: Killed, 10,000; wounded, 20,000; taken prisoner, 9,000.

Fine weather favors the Italian advance which continues over a more extended area.

The arrival on the battle front is reported of Kaiser Jago's Regiments from the Tyrol and Hungarians from the Rumanian front.

No offensive on the Austro-Italian front since the beginning of the war has been marked by such fierce fighting. Battling in the Carso mountain lands, Italians and Austrians have met in hand-to-hand struggles that have continued at some places all night.

An especially furious combat preceded the capture of the Veliki hill by the Italians. The summit was crowned by heavy Austrian artillery that drew a semi-circle of fire against the base of Veliki and prevented Cadorna's men from advancing in front attack.

Several small Italian detachments under cover of darkness reached the slopes on the sides of Veliki outside this fire zone. Without waiting for reinforcements they scaled the sides, surprised the enemy and after a brief encounter with grenades and daggers captured the Austrian battery. The victors signalled news of their success to their waiting comrades below and then turned the captured guns on the Austrian trenches to the east.

ARMY WADES RIVER.

In the fighting southeast of Gorizia, Italian infantry charged onto a wide area which had been flooded by the Vertobilla river. At some places they advanced to the attack in water waist deep, holding their rifles high above their heads.

It is estimated that 100,000 Austrians are smashed against the Isonzo lines now under attack by Cadorna. Several Austrian battalions virtually have been wiped out of existence.

BUCHAREST, Nov. 4.—Following the Rumanians' successful resistance on their northwestern frontier, the Germans yesterday attacked on the whole Dobruja line after several days' lull in Mackensen's operations.

On the right wing, resting on the Danube, the Rumanians repulsed the first drive back the enemy but later was compelled to yield ground slightly.

The renewal of the attack in Dobruja, however, is believed here to be only a feint to conceal the advance of German troops to the Transylvanian front. It is estimated that the Germans must send five fresh divisions into Transylvania to fill gaps made in their lines in their last offensive and to add enough strength to enable Falkenhayn to make further progress.

In the eastern front, fought heavily in the recent fighting around Vulkan pass and south of Redtower Pass.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Intermittent cannonading occurred last night on the Somme front and in the region of the Douaumont and Vaux on the northeastern front of Verdun. It was officially announced today, but there were no important infantry activities.

RUSSIANS FORCED BACK.

BERLIN, Nov. 4.—Portions of the Russian main position on the Narayuvaka river southeast of Lemberg, taken by storm yesterday by Austro-German troops, it is announced officially.

Iteza Heights southeast of Alt-Schanz on the Hungarian-Rumanian front has been occupied by the Rumanians. The war office announced that the Rumanians had taken the main forces captured a position from the Rumanians.

Stumping for the Presidential Candidates Is Officially Brought to Conclusion Tonight With Numerous Talks

Campaign Officially Brought to Conclusion

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The business of preparing the American voter for the election of the United States president came to a close today. Saturday night marks the official end of the campaign—a free-for-all scramble for votes that has been marked, first, by the most strenuous stumping tour a candidate ever took, and second, by a union, marked by a great many leaders, at least, of the two wings of Republicanism that split four years ago; third, by raising of the issue of war or peace.

Both Republicans and Democrats are supremely confident of victory. The two great parties wound up the campaign with a flood of advertising in the newspapers throughout the country which in volume has never been surpassed in political history; and, tonight, will burn the red fire and spell the final words of oratory before the celebration of victory Tuesday night.

NOMINEES END CAMPAIGN

President Wilson said his last night at Shadow Lawn on "Old Home Day." Charles E. Hughes scattered his parting injunctions to voters in six speeches here in New York with a last and crowning effort tonight in Madison Square Garden. This latter speech was to be the climax of a great Republican demonstration—parades, red fire, banquets, yells and cheers.

Of the other candidates for Presidential honors, the Prohibition candidate, J. Frank Hanly, completes his appeal for votes in his home city of Indianapolis, and Allen Benson, Socialist candidate, speaks in Louisville. Benson has one more speech after the official close of the campaign—in Milwaukee tomorrow.

Probably $2,000,000 will change hands here alone on Tuesday on the verdict which the American voter registers at the polls. There was a rush to get money down today while the odds fluctuated fractionally around Hughes.

ROOSEVELT AT BRIDGEPORT

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, former President and leader of the exodus from the Republican ranks four years ago, made his last appeal in behalf of the President-elect in Bridgeport, Conn. At the time the Colonel has several times heretofore made farewell to politics, his closest friends believe this Bridgeport address may mark his valedictory in active participation in politics.

Of picturesque interest in the kaleidoscopic tumble of the "last minute" activity was the share of the wind-up contributed by the women. The special train of women orators of the Hughes Alliance stopped its 11,700-mile transcontinental journey last night. Its faithful speakers were called into service for numerous stumping talks here in New York today. In the Democratic camp the women's bureau sent women cartoonists over the city, drawing campaign pictures to illustrate points made by women stumpers.

Thousands of Hughes Supporters to Parade

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—With waving of red light torches and blaring of brass bands, the campaign will come to a spectacular close in the Middle West tonight. Managers of both parties say the Middle West will give the answer Tuesday.

Torchlight parades will be held in every Illinois district by women to

Ladies! Hughes Is Not on Ballot

Neither Is Wilson; So Watch Your X!

Mrs. C. C. Chamberlain, president of the Women's Republican Club of Chicago, said tonight the following notice to the women voters of this country in response to several reports that have reached the club's headquarters as to misunderstanding of the ballot.

"The information has reached this club that there are many women voters who are not understanding that by voting for the party presidential electors they are voting for Hughes. This misunderstanding is probably due to the fact that this is only the second time in history that the women of California have had the privilege of voting for presidential electors."

"Although the name, Charles Evans Hughes, does not appear on the ballot you are voting for Hughes by putting a cross (X) in the little square to the right of the names of Wilson, Republican, and W. F. Chandler, Republican, and J. F. Seelye, Republican."

"You may if you like put a separate cross to the right of every name in the group headed by J. F. Chandler, and ending with J. P. Davidson. By doing this you are also voting for Hughes."

"Remember, with your ballot before you, so that you will be prepared to vote intelligently and safely."

MRS. C. C. CHAMBERLAIN, President Women's Republican Club of Alameda County.

Large Rally Is Held at Antioch

ANTIOCH, Nov. 4.—One of the largest political rallies ever held in Antioch was held last night when some five hundred citizens of Antioch and nearby towns gathered here to listen to Charles F. Stern of the State Highway Commission; James M. Oliver, formerly of this county, but now of San Francisco; Tom Pollard Jr., Will T. Barker, Republican leader; Sam L. Hays, Sheriff R. R. Veale and W. E. Calahan, Republican nominee for the assembly from the eighteenth district.

Stern caused a cheer when he declared "This is a government of rhetoric, and until we put a controversial man, such as Charles Evans Hughes in the White House, even the Mexican pesos will scorn us."

James M. Oliver and Tom Pollard Jr. delivered high toned addresses of industry, saying that these two things are and will be needed when the great European war ends and that unless the United States makes laws covering such legislation, the cheap foreign labor and the high tariff will ruin the industry in America ever witnessed. The speakers declared that personally Wilson is a fine man and scholar, but that he is not the man for the big job.

night, Stump speeches and rallies will be staged by the leaders of the national women's party. A big Hughes parade is to wind through Chicago's business district this afternoon behind brass bands, howling warblers and hosts of cheering women.

Under the auspices of the National Grand Old Party elephant, thirty thousand are expected to march. Rough riders from the stockyards will be in line.

Hughes' Race Most Strenuous in History

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Charles Evans Hughes finishes today the most strenuous race for a Presidency that any man has ever run. He finishes it in a series of meetings over downtown New York during the day and with a monster mass meeting in Madison Square Garden tonight.

The Republican nominee added about thirty additional miles by automobile during the day to the 30,000 he has traveled on rail and by motor since he started, August 5.

There wasn't any doubt today about Hughes' own belief in his election next Tuesday. He breathed a spirit of complete confidence. "Tuesday night he will remain quietly at the Astor, without any special wires being run into his rooms to give him the details of the vote casting which he and his friends feel certain will sweep him into the Presidency."

Today Hughes planned to carry his doctors of Americanism, of false prosperity and of efficient America to the New York business men. He was scheduled for five addresses. All will be short.

Wilson Completes Campaign at Home

SHADOW LAWN, LONG BRANCH, N. J., Nov. 4.—President Wilson will complete his personal effort for reelection in an address to be delivered on the veranda of his home here today. In his final appeal to the voters of the country he will speak to his friends and neighbors of New Jersey, who are celebrating "Old Home Day" at Shadow Lawn. Governor Fielder and many of the men with whom the President has been actively associated in Jersey politics will participate in the event.

The President himself has expressed it, he and his hosts do not believe that the electorate will agree to a change in the administration whose work has been "constructive, progressive, definite and along the course which has resulted in peace and prosperity" to an administration whose qualities are indefinite and who threaten to institute a change of procedure with foreign powers which might lead to war.

'T. R. NOT RISK,' CRIES DEMOCRACY

Former Collector of Port Malone Points to Republican Delinquencies.

Before an audience of two thousand persons in the Macdonough theater last night, Judge J. H. Malone, collector of the port of New York and former assistant secretary of state under the Wilson administration, fired one of the closing guns of the Democratic campaign in Albany, out with an address upon the issues of the day.

Declaring that tariff reduction, the elimination of the famous Washington lobby, the eight-hour day, the currency law, the child labor statute and the national tax regulations were the fruits of the Wilson administration, Malone excoriated Roosevelt, Lodge and Senator Beveridge for their attitude toward the President and upon national issues, and severely criticized Charles Evans Hughes for his alleged avoidance of campaign attacks. Malone said, in part:

Hughes hasn't said anything and he has said it poorly. Wilson, as presidential candidate, had a right to expect an intelligent discussion of the issues of the moment, but the emblem of the opposition has been tactlessness. This is because Hughes has inherited a great dilemma and cannot avoid it. He has inherited the task of alienating his leaders. Governor Johnson is just about as keen on electing Hughes as Roosevelt is, while Roosevelt is sweating blood wondering how he can beat Wilson without electing Hughes. It is a terrible situation.

T. R. NOT RISK.

To hear Roosevelt talk you would think he was the personification of the fighting spirit of America, when in fact he is a coward. He has a right to expect an intelligent discussion of the issues of the moment, but the emblem of the opposition has been tactlessness. This is because Hughes has inherited a great dilemma and cannot avoid it. He has inherited the task of alienating his leaders. Governor Johnson is just about as keen on electing Hughes as Roosevelt is, while Roosevelt is sweating blood wondering how he can beat Wilson without electing Hughes. It is a terrible situation.

"When we raise the slogan, 'Women for women,' we mean exactly that—nothing more, nothing less."

This statement is a portion of an official paper, sent out to all cities where the National Women's Party is represented, by Miss Alice Hamilton, chairman of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage. It was sent to Oakland in an attempt to clarify somewhat the position held by this branch of the national body. The statement reads as follows:

"The Woman's Party and all its members are pledged to vote against President Wilson. They are not pledged to support any other candidate."

"Wilson is the foe of Federal woman suffrage—therefore, we oppose him."

"The other presidential candidates of all parties favor nation-wide woman suffrage."

"We are non-partisan. The Republican, the Socialist, the Prohibitionist, all have been eager to secure our united voting strength. They realize the power and the importance of the woman's vote."

"When we raise the slogan, 'Women for women,' we mean exactly that, nothing more and nothing less."

Neveridge, whom I have always called the Malvolvo of American politics, and who is now a paid agent around somewhere in California, points to Sweden, Norway, Spain and other countries as proof of the statement that Wilson has not kept us out of war. The answer is that it was the big standing army of those countries that did the work. We, of the Democratic party, want no great standing army. What we do want is a gradual system of programmed development which will make it possible to put a navy large enough to protect the Atlantic coast.

The pro-Germans are against Wilson because he wouldn't prohibit the manufacture and sales of arms and ammunition. They are against him because he wouldn't protect the invasion of Belgium. If they are both against him he must have been pretty neutral. Besides, the arms were for sale to the victors and the victors have bought her share the same as anyone else if she wanted them, while we could not have protested the Belgium incident on account of the Monroe doctrine. Such a protest would have meant a declaration in Europe into South America on some pretext or another after the war, if we had interfered in their European troubles at that time.

When Wilson administration took office they found a yellow child on the doorstep—the Japanese question. And I want to tell you that quietly, one by one, warship after warship was slipped into the Pacific ocean around the lower end of South America, so that we could be in a position to make good whatever might arise in the way of a necessity and we did it to cover up the neglect of the previous administration. The kind of carelessness we have inherited and we are expected to build a military spirit upon such a foundation.

WILSON'S WORD FIRST.

Referring to Lodge's charges about the postscript which Wilson proposed to have added to the German note, Lodge, who says he got his information from Breckinridge, who denies it, and Charles Crocker of San Francisco, who says he knows a friend who heard Breckinridge say the same thing, Wilson comes out and denies the whole thing over his own signature, and I am going to take President Wilson's word against that of men like Lodge and Crocker.

In concluding my campaign, which has lasted over weeks through ten states of the Union, I want at this time to pay special tribute to the rare intelligence of the vast majority of American women who have not been fooled by political charlatans, but have kept their heads clear under trying conditions and are going to support Wilson at the polls.

The speaker was introduced by R. M. Fitzgerald, chairman of the event. John J. McDonald, chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee, presided.

Francis J. Heney Is Speaker Tonight

Francis J. Heney is to deliver a public address in the interests of Woodrow Wilson at the Macdonough Theater this evening. The address was arranged at a late hour and follows directly after that of last night when Malone spoke for the Democrats. The public is invited.

Fowl Is a Whole Family by Itself

FINDLAY, O., Nov. 4.—M. P. Lear owns a rooster-hen. The fowl which is year old, can lay an egg, crow like a rooster or cackle like a hen. It has a large red comb and wattles and one leg is armed with a huge spur, while the other is a hen's leg. The fowl will fight, but never back down with the regular roosters. It is of the barred Plymouth Rock breed.

PICKETS TO PROTEST

SAN JOSE, Nov. 4.—The decision handed down by Judge P. F. Geary, in department two of the Superior Court, in the case of Samuel Henderson, merchant at 22 South Market street, forbidding the Retail Clerks union to picket his place, will be opposed by the union clerks. This was known in a statement made soon after the decision was announced. The decision enjoins the so-called "peaceful picketing."

NOT FOR WILSON, IS SLOGAN OF WOMEN

East Bay Branch of Woman's National Party Arranges Rally.

The east bay branch of the Woman's National Party is completing every detail of the big demonstration to be held Monday night at Chabot Hall. The women decorated the meeting place themselves, and so far have scorned every effort made by the masculine gender to aid them in their arrangements.

Presiding at the meeting will be Mrs. Ethnor Carlisle. Addresses are scheduled to be made by Ida Finney MacKillop, Sara Bard Field and Maud Younger. At 8 o'clock the meeting will be called to order. All arrangements have been made to care for the crowd expected. The ushering staff has been named, with twelve enthusiastic surface workers aiding in seating the immense concourse of listeners which it is thought will be present. They are:

Miss Dorothy Paul, Miss Helene Hickman, Miss Phyllis Hawkins, Miss Margaret Sherman, Miss Ramona Gray, Miss Fath Williams, Miss Anne Hughes, Miss Marguerite Furlong, Miss Dorothy Leeper, Miss Ruth Gedney, Miss Harriet Allen and Miss Helga Crona.

"When we raise the slogan, 'Women for women,' we mean exactly that—nothing more, nothing less."

This statement is a portion of an official paper, sent out to all cities where the National Women's Party is represented, by Miss Alice Hamilton, chairman of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage. It was sent to Oakland in an attempt to clarify somewhat the position held by this branch of the national body. The statement reads as follows:

"The Woman's Party and all its members are pledged to vote against President Wilson. They are not pledged to support any other candidate."

"Wilson is the foe of Federal woman suffrage—therefore, we oppose him."

"The other presidential candidates of all parties favor nation-wide woman suffrage."

"We are non-partisan. The Republican, the Socialist, the Prohibitionist, all have been eager to secure our united voting strength. They realize the power and the importance of the woman's vote."

"When we raise the slogan, 'Women for women,' we mean exactly that, nothing more and nothing less."

Eligible List for City Offices Issued

SAN JOSE, Nov. 4.—The local civil service board, through its secretary and clerk, R. R. Trippe, has issued its list of eligible for positions under the city government, as have been thus far examined. The following can be appointed as senior accountants in the office of City Auditor: Andrew E. Nelson, San Francisco; Thomas E. Morris, Campbell; L. A. Buana, Los Gatos; and L. F. Curtis, San Jose. For assistant in the public works department: Edwin E. Cameron, Berkeley. For laboratory assistant in health department: Mrs. Georgiana S. Burke, Los Gatos; Miss Madeline Morice, Berkeley; Miss Myrtle May Finley, Miss Esther M. Schwartz and Miss Anna M. L. Kuhlman, all of San Jose. In the event of vacancies in any of these departments the three names highest of the eligible list will be referred to City Manager, from which the appointment will be made.

To Sell Pastries for Lodge Benefit

Elaborate preparations are being made for the benefit bazaar to be given by Golden Gate Lodge Daughters of St. George at the lodge headquarters, St. George Hall, Twenty-fifth and Grove streets, Wednesday afternoon and evening, November 15.

The proceeds of the sale of fancy work, pastries, dolls and other home-made products will be devoted to replenishing the emergency fund of the lodge. The bazaar will be open to the public and entertainment of various kinds is being arranged for by the ladies in charge.

CROWDS CHEER AS JOHNSON SPEAKS

Governor's Reception in San Francisco Enthusiastic Demonstration.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—San Francisco never displayed so abundant an admiration for a candidate as it did here last night when Governor William W. Johnson spoke on national issues and his candidacy for United States senator. It is idle to talk about a crowded hall and an overflow meeting twice as large. There were so many men and women in Dreamland Rink and outside it that it is foolish to make an estimate of how many turned out to hear the governor. The hall was arranged to seat something more than 5500. The walls were three deep with humanity and only the police could keep the aisles clear. The National theater was used as an overflow hall.

Congressman John I. Nolan presided. He is a man recognized as a pronounced labor leader and his eulogy of Governor Johnson was warmly received by the wage-earners in the audience.

Johnson reviewed the progressive legislation enacted in this state in the last six years, paid a fine tribute to Charles Evans Hughes, condemned the Democratic administration's conduct in Mexico and spoke for an industrial, economic and military preparedness.

"I stand today just where I have stood in the last six years in this state," Johnson said, "and if I go into a wider field and another activity there I shall stand for exactly what I have stood for in the State of California."

"We stand in this campaign," he went on further to say, "for the national Republican ticket. We stand in this campaign for Charles Evans Hughes. The record that he has made as a public servant has guaranteed his life in any activity into which he may go, has commended itself to men with views like mine, with governmental and economic ideals in which I share, and, commending itself, has won not only our earnest support, but enthusiastic advocacy of his campaign, and that advocacy will continue, my friends, until we in California, on the 7th day of November next, shall deliver our electoral vote for Charles Evans Hughes for President."

STANDS FOR SUFFRAGE

Johnson said he stood for equal suffrage by federal action and federal amendment. He spoke of the necessity for a protective tariff. He advocated "America first, an America fit, an America efficient, and for national preparedness, the preparedness that means 'the ultimate protection of our social and economic life, as well as for that protection which is necessary to provide the barrier so that this country shall ever be able to defeat itself.'"

Berkeley Rally at School Auditorium

This evening Governor Johnson will speak at the High School auditorium at Berkeley. The meeting will be presided over by Mayor Samuel C. Irving of Berkeley. Five hundred vice-presidents have been named by the Republican County Central Committee.

Livermore is to be the scene of a township gathering Saturday night for the purpose of closing the Republican campaign in a blaze of enthusiasm. Hon. Dan W. Ryan and Thomas W. Selvaque will be the speakers.

At San Leandro tonight there will be a rally at the town hall with music by the San Leandro band. County Comptroller William G. Muntz will preside and Frank M. Carr, Republican candidate for state senator, will speak.

Aged Man Given Life Sentence for Murder

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 4.—Scott Maussel, 64, was found guilty in circuit court of the murder of Mrs. Anna H. St. John of Mayfield, N. Y. He was sentenced to life imprisonment at Jackson.

Maussel, who is 64 years old, confessed that he lured the woman to Grand Rapids, on the promise to marry her, and killed her the next day. The crime was committed in a woods two miles from Grand Rapids. Mrs. St. John's body was found by children. A small sum of money which Mrs. St. John possessed was the object of the crime. Maussel at first protested his innocence and tried to hide his identity under two different names.

Tamalpais Not Mimicking Lassen

Falling Ash Is Cause of S. F. Alarm

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—In order that there may be no misunderstanding on the part of apprehensive citizens, Weather Forecaster G. H. Wilson hastens to inform the bay communities that Mt. Tamalpais is not in eruption. In addition he wishes to make it plain that the summit of Marin county's favorite peak is not a boiling crater and that its formation is not of a volcanic character. Moreover there is no fear of Oakland, San Francisco and the other bay cities disappearing beneath a flow of lava and ashes. All of which is preliminary to saying that the white ash which descended in a section of the business district of San Francisco was from somebody's chimney and not from the skies or the seas or the surrounding mountains.

"I was first informed of the matter when a woman called me on the telephone," said Wilson, "and asked me if it was snowing. I responded in the negative and then made an investigation. I found a few flakes of the ashes. They looked like wood ashes and I would say somebody was burning a large quantity of a peculiar kind of wood and the ash deluge followed. There was a very small fall on our building but I understand quite a bit was found elsewhere."

BAKER PLAYED BY REVOLUTION SONS

Organization Criticises the Remarks Referring to Valley Forge Soldiers.

The following resolutions have been passed by the California Society of the Sons of the American Revolution. In criticism of Secretary of War Baker's remarks concerning the soldiers at Valley Forge:

Whereas, it has come to our notice, through the public press within the past week, that Secretary of War Baker, Secretary of War, has made a public speech for political purposes in which he refers to the soldiers of the American Revolution in disgraceful and disparaging terms, without foundation in record or fact, classifying Washington's soldiers—those of Valley Forge—with bands of Mexican bandits, which for several years past have been engaged in an unbridled career of rapine, murder and pillage, not only of their own people, but of the citizens of the United States and other nations;

Resolved, that the California Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, under its constitution, stands firmly in defense against any and all who for any purpose would besmirch the fair name and record of those gallant, patriotic soldiers who fought for and gained the American liberty we now enjoy; be it

Resolved, that the California Society of the Sons of the American Revolution desires to go on record as most strongly resenting the utterances of Mr. Baker as being un-American, untrue, malicious and utterly disgraceful, particularly when emanating from one who is a member of the Sons of the American Revolution of the United States of America.

The above resolution was unanimously passed by the board of managers of the California Society of the Sons of the American Revolution in San Francisco, November 3, 1916.

Socialists Receive Aid to Extent of $42,558

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—A campaign financial statement for the Socialist party filed with the clerk of the House today showed contributions of $24,558 up to October 1 and expenditures of $18,453. The report showed most of the expenditures had been in Oklahoma, Wisconsin, New York, Indiana and Nevada. All contributions were in small sums.

ELMHURST VOTERS HEAR REPUBLICANS

Hughes-Johnson Club Cheers Record of G. O. P. Candidate.

The eastern part of Oakland was the scene of two lively Republican meetings. At Red Men's hall, Elmhurst, L. B. Magoon presided over a meeting arranged by the Hughes-Johnson Republican Club of Elmhurst. The chairman was introduced by the president of the club, Joe St. Mar, and the speakers were Frank P. Hayes and Louis H. Ward of San Francisco and Frank M. Carr, candidate for state senator. Other gathering was held at Fitchburg and addressed by the same speakers.

"The events of the hour prompt me to repeat to you the words of Champ Clark," said Mr. Hayes, "Clark said 'No country will endure, and no country is worthy to endure, that will not protect all of its citizens wherever they may be on land or on sea.' To which I will add that it is also true that no country will endure, and no country is worthy to endure, that refuses to protect its labor, its industry and its business against the unfair competition of lower wages and lower productive cost in other countries. Wherefore it follows necessarily that no political party that will not protect the labor and industry and business of its own country will endure or is worthy to endure."

"These next four years are to be momentous in the country's history and it seems inevitable that the red-blooded men of the land will grant another to the vacillating Wilson administration, with its record of extravagance, broken promises, socialistic schemes and incompetence solely on the ground that 'The President has kept us out of war.' This is a great time when the eyes of the world are upon us and this is the time to establish or ruin our national reputation."

Louis H. Ward was the concluding speaker.

Say Dry Amendments Would Increase Taxes

The Property Owners' Protective Association of this city has given for publication a report made by the firm of Haskins & Sells, certified public accountants, concerning the effect on the tax rate should Amendments 1 and 2 be adopted. The report is in part as follows:

"We have made, upon your request, an examination of the books and accounts of the City of Oakland for the purpose of ascertaining the revenue derived by the city from the liquor business during the calendar year 1915. The following is the amount which has been received from licenses for the sale of liquor issued to wholesalers, retailers, social clubs, hotels and restaurants: total, $240,386.

The revenue of the City of Oakland is further augmented by personal property taxes paid on merchandise, fixtures and plants of persons, firms and corporations engaged in the manufacture and in the sale of liquor in an amount which it is impossible to state exactly by reason of said property not being assessed separately.

We hereby certify, taking into consideration solely the factor of licenses as set forth, that should this amount of municipal income be cut off by the adoption of the proposed Constitutional Amendments One and Two, it would require, upon the basis of the 1915 assessment, an increase of 16.3 cents in the tax rate to make up for this means the deficit in revenue.

A. G. Taft, former president of the Merchants' Exchange, and a prominent manufacturer, is president of the Property Owners' Protective Association. Its directors and membership embrace many of the leading business men and women of Oakland who are apprehensive of the effects of the amendments upon investments, business, industrial enterprises and employment.

Mullins' Candidacy Endorsed by Labor

Members of Electrical Workers' Union No. 395, this city, has endorsed the candidacy of John F. Mullins, candidate for re-election to the office of supervisor. The endorsement contains the names of 67 members of the union and declares that, "as a friend of organized labor, Supervisor Mullins has always been foremost in upholding the principles of the working man."

TAXPAYERS' LEAGUE IN COURT ROW

Rival Organizations Battle Over Use of Name and the Herrick Faction Seeks Order Restraining the Rival Group

Petition Filed Charges Arrest and Simmons With Conduct Hostile to Political Club and Affidavits Offered to Judge

Charges against Ernest L. Arrest, president, and William B. Simmons, secretary of the City and County Taxpayers' League, are contained in a petition filed by the Taxpayers' League in the Superior Court today, in which the courts are asked to restrain the defendant organization from longer using the name under which it is now known.

CONDUCT INVOLVED.

The two officers are alleged to have been dropped from the rolls of the plaintiff organization "for conduct unbecoming to American citizenship and the high ideals of good government represented by the Taxpayers' League and that affidavits of their acceptance of money to defeat the objects of the said Taxpayers' League are in its possession."

Arrest's and Simmons' names are the only ones mentioned in the paper filed in court today, which was sworn to by Dr. L. F. Herrick, president of the Taxpayers' League. The petition recites that the "Taxpayers' League was organized for social and political reasons, and that the rival organization, formed by men, it alleges, who were not longer desired as members of the plaintiff body, exists merely that its members may obtain political positions through the exploitation of the name of the plaintiff league.

PREFIX OMITTED.

The petition further alleges that often the prefix "city and county" is omitted from the title of the organization, with the result that the general public is misled as to the real identity of the body of men. Various alleged instances of wrong doing of this nature are cited. There are no more than twenty members in the rival organization, reads Dr. Herrick's complaint, and they are banded together for mutual profit and the obtaining of political preferment, he alleges.

Efforts failed today to obtain statements from Arrest and Simmons.

Mezzo Soprano to Be Heard at Greek Theater Sunday

MRS. ALBERTA JURICH.

Mrs. Alberta Jurich to Be One of Interesting Program

BERKELEY, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Alberta Jurich, mezzo soprano; Mrs. Anita Lewis Cooley, coloratura soprano; Mrs. Gertrude Harnschild, contralto; Mrs. Adelaide Taylor, contralto, with Miss Fern Frost as accompanist, assisted by Miss Lydia Sturtevant and Miss Beatrice Laurita Sherwood, pianists, will give the University of California's half hour of music in the Greek Theater tomorrow at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Jurich will render Berceuse, "Jocelyn" (Gondard) and "The Star" (Rogers). Miss Sherwood will play Sonata Tragica, molto allegro (second) and largo con maestra (third). A quartet will render Ghebel's "Boating." Mrs. Cooley will sing "Lo, Hear the Gentle Lark," by Bishop, and Polonaise, from Thomas' "Mignon," while Miss Sherwood will also play "Vox Populi" by Scamball and Liszt's Sixth Hungarian Rhapsody. Mrs. Taylor will sing a selection by Gastoldi. The closing number will be the vocal quartet, Schubert's "The Night" being chosen for this number.

VILLA TAKES THREE BIG MINE TOWNS

Government Agents in El Paso Receive Information Bandit Has Captured Santa Rosalia. Also Parral and Jiminez

Information Reaching Officials and American Mining Men Fails to State Whether or Not Outlaw Held His Prizes

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 4.—Government agents here received what they claim to be reliable information today that Santa Rosalia, Parral and Jiminez have been taken by Villa bandits. It is not known whether these towns were held by the bandits after their capture.

American mining men also received what they claim as additional confirmation today of the report that Parral was taken on Tuesday.

American Arrested for Mexican Cattle Theft

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 4.—Albert Herold, an American, is held in the Juarez jail on the charge of cattle stealing. Herold is said to have fought with Villa formerly. George Herold, the father, said, however, that his son expected to prove ownership to the 150 head of cattle which he stands accused of stealing and of trying to smuggle into American territory.

The Carranza authorities state that three other Americans, whose names have not been learned here, were arrested on the same charge by Carranza patrols below Ojinaga. American agents also reported that they had been unable to learn anything concerning the fate of Alfonso Leiva, American-born, who formerly held a commission under Villa and later was made a lieutenant-colonel by Carranza. Two weeks ago, it is said, he was arrested as a Villa spy at Juarez and taken to Chihuahua City.

"Death to Americans," Cry of Villa Bandits

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 4.—"Death to Americans" was the cry of the Villa bandits who charged down from the foothills at Laguna upon the Mexican Central passenger train Monday night. Dr. S. Hafner, the German physician who was a passenger on this loaded train declared upon his arrival here on the train from Chihuahua City.

Dr. Hafner was told by one of the Villa chiefs in command of the bandits that Villa troops had captured Santa Rosalia, Jiminez, and would take Chihuahua City within ten days, after the railroad to Juarez had been destroyed. Dr. Hafner, who had practiced medicine in Chihuahua City many years recognized many of the bandits as former patients and called them by name after he had established his identity as a German subject.

"I am sure I would have been killed, had I not been recognized as the German doctor who had lived in Chihuahua City so long," Dr. Hafner added.

vision the Sunday half hours of music are given, has announced that in case of inclement weather the concert will be postponed. Both Mrs. Cooley and Mrs. Jurich are well known in local musical circles, having appeared in concert at several social entertainments. Miss Sturtevant, who is presenting the numbers, is active in musical circles in this city, being connected with musical instruction here.

This concert is about the last to be given during the fall season, the inclement weather making further recitals improbable. The season will begin again during the spring semester.

Britain Defends "Fire" Bullets

Says Germans Object to Own Invention

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The use of "fire bullets" in machine guns is legitimate warfare. This is the stand taken by the British authorities in protesting, through the American embassy, to Berlin against the German threat to deal with two British airmen captured with the "fire bullets" in their possession.

The "fire bullet," British authorities assert, is a German invention. The British military authorities adopted it after capturing some from the Germans months ago they say.

Wife Complains Groom Deserted in One Day

California Prosperous—Why Change?

San Francisco bank clearings for October BROKE ALL PREVIOUS MONTHLY RECORDS. The report of the Clearing House Association shows a total of $342,492,552.87. This is an increase of more than $90,000,000 over the same month last year.

A new record in bank clearings is shown in the official figures of the Oakland Clearing House for October. Oakland banks show a total of $20,231,076. THIS IS THE LARGEST AMOUNT EVER RECORDED IN BANK CLEARINGS IN OAKLAND.

The Oakland Postoffice receipts for October were $49,258.15, the LARGEST FOR ANY SINGLE MONTH IN ITS HISTORY.

A comparison of bank clearings in Portland, Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane, in prohibition States, with those of San Francisco, Sacramento, Stockton and Oakland, under the existing California SYSTEM OF REGULATION AND REVENUE, shows:

For the first six months of 1916 the increase over the first six months of 1915 in the four California cities was GREATER THAN THAT IN THE FOUR CITIES IN OREGON AND WASHINGTON BY 83.3%. Excess in aggregate of transaction $805,733,101.

This shows the greater degree of prosperity in California. Keep California prosperous.

NO ADVANCE

GERMANY TO INSIST ON NEUTRALITY

Safety of Non-Combatant Vessels Will Depend on Guarantees That No Part of Cargo Shall Be Put in British Port

Belief Is That England Must Abandon Right to Compel Discharge at Kirkwall or Divers Sink Merchantmen

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A special despatch from Amsterdam features a statement of the Berlin Kreuz Zeitung to the effect that Germany has decided to make the safety of neutral ships carrying neutral cargoes dependent upon guarantees that no part of such cargoes shall be landed, whether through British compulsion or not at any British port. Such guarantees, according to the Kreuz Zeitung, can consist only in formal undertakings by Great Britain, and such an undertaking will be recognized by Germany only from case to case.

This is taken to mean that, in event of any neutral cargo or part thereof being landed in England, the German government will cease to recognize the inviolability of neutral ships. The Berlin paper implies that the case of the Dutch freighter Bloemendijk, which was sunk by a German submarine off Nantucket on October 8, will be argued along these lines, and it will be contended, since the intermediate destination of the vessel was Kirkwall, there was no guarantee that the whole cargo would reach Holland.

The British press also infers from a Berlin despatch summarized in the Koelnische Zeitung that Germany purposes to sink all neutral ships, whether bearing neutral cargoes or otherwise, unless Great Britain consents to abandon the right to compel discharge at Kirkwall of any part of a neutral cargo suspected of having an enemy destination.

Alleged University Professor Arrested

PALO ALTO, Nov. 4.—Charged with speeding along the highway near this place with two other motorists, a man giving the name of Professor J. M. Hoff, pathology department, University of California, must face justice of the Peace Brown next Friday for judgment. Hoff, as the man proclaims himself, was stopped on the highway following informal competition between his car and those of two men calling themselves Albert Bruschard, 624 Market street, restaurant keeper, and R. D. Wiley, salesman, 318 Eddy street, San Francisco. Traffic officers stopped the speeding cars just as the competition was at its height.

Austrian Loss 39,000 in Two Days Rumanians Check Danube Attacks

Guedecourt-Des Boeufs sector were repulsed, the war office announced. Hostile attacks were preceded by violent artillery duels; the attacks, however, were carried out in only light fashion under our fire to the northwest of Guedecourt and in the sector of Guedecourt and Les Boeufs were repulsed.

Five hostile airships were shot down to aerial engagements and by anti-aircraft guns. Army groups of the German crown prince. The hostile fire increased considerably during the afternoon against our positions on the heights east of the Meuse. (Verdun front): French attacks between Douaumont and Vaux were without success.

On the northern part of the Transylvanian front fighting was again more active, but this time without important results. On the south front an isolated Rumanian attack was repulsed. Rosa Hight, southeast of Altschaltz, has been occupied by the enemy.

TAKE 250 PRISONERS. Southwest of Predeal we recaptured a Rumanian position which had been taken November 2, but was lost again the following night. More than 250 prisoners fell into our hands. During an enterprise on the part of Austro-Hungarian motor-boats against an island in the Danube, southwest of Rustchuk (south of Bucharest on the Bulgarian side of the Danube), two cannon and four mine throwers were captured.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Strong German forces last night entered the British trenches near Culnehy, seven miles east of Bethune, says the British official statement issued today, but the invaders were immediately expelled. The Germans launched a counter attack east of Guedecourt, the statement adds, but they suffered very heavy losses in proportion to their strength.

SOFIA, Nov. 4.—The Bulgarian war office in its official summary of conditions today says: Macedonian front: A weak attack by the enemy at Lake Mallia was repulsed. Our positions in the plain of Bitolla were bombarded fruitlessly. In the Struma valley there was ineffective artillery firing. The enemy abandoned the village of Kakarauka.

Rumanian front: Unchanged. Warships of the enemy shelled Constantza, but were driven off by our coast guns. Along the Danube there was a mild exchange of cannon and rifle fire.

Citizens' Committee Sees Waterfront

An inspection tour of the entire waterfront was taken Friday afternoon by members of the citizens' committee for outer harbor development, and under the direction of Harbor Manager W. W. Keith vital information was secured by those on the boat about the valuable land on the city's fringe.

The purposes of the co-operative committee, a sub-organization of the larger committee for outer harbor development, are to scrutinize carefully all proposed leases of the outer harbor and to assist, if requested to do so by city authorities, in the preparation of such leases. Members of this sub-committee were present in large numbers on the tour. John W. Phillips is chairman of the co-operative committee; Frank J. Woodward, vice-chairman and Edwin R. Hull, secretary.

SANTA CLARA NOTES

SANTA CLARA, Nov. 4.—Tomorrow evening there will be a union temperance meeting, concluding the campaign in behalf of the "dry" amendments, held in the Methodist church here. A rally for the young people will begin at 8 o'clock, in which all the young church people are asked to participate. This will be followed by a general service at 7:30. Mrs. E. L. Itch, leader of the Dry Federation of Santa Clara county, will deliver an address. There will be songs by the choir and general discussion of amendments one and two.

It is reported that Santa Clara is soon to have a new depot. Several surveyors and assistants were here going over the preliminary work yesterday.

U. S. Bankers Raise $50,000,000 for Russia

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—A syndicate of bankers has concluded negotiations for an unsecured loan of $50,000,000 to the Russian government. The syndicate is composed of the National City Bank, J. P. Morgan & Co., Guaranty Trust Company, Kidder, Peabody & Co. and Lee, Higginson & Co.

A public offering of the securities will be made shortly at a price that will yield considerably more than the interest carried by the offering, perhaps 6 1/2 per cent.

COMRADE VOWS TO TAKE HERO'S PLACE

Death of Famous German Aviator Caused by Collision, Not Enemy.

BERLIN (By wireless to Sayville), Nov. 4.—In its account of the funeral of Captain Boelcke, Germany's most famous aviator, the Lokal Anzeiger says that at the grave Lieutenant Colonel Thomsen, chief of the German aerial fleet, made the solemn promise in the name of his comrades of the dead aviator, "I shall become a Boelcke."

The streets of Dessau, Captain Boelcke's home town, were thronged. A squadron of aviators flew along the route of the funeral procession to the cemetery.

An eye witness account of the death of Captain Boelcke was given today by the Overseas News Agency as follows: Captain Boelcke met with the accident in which he was killed at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of October 21. He had just disabled a hostile machine in a fierce aerial combat. At the conclusion of the battle another German airplane touched Boelcke's machine and part of a plane of the latter was torn off.

Captain Boelcke descended swiftly in a narrow spiral for some distance but when at a height of about 200 yards his machine suddenly fell. The body of the aviator was not touched by projectiles. After having defeated forty adversaries, an accident terminated his life. He died unvanquished.

Truck Knocks Down Down Open Sewer

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—William Williamson, an employee of the telephone company living at 151 Cook street, was guarding an open manhole at Bush and Steiner street this morning when an automobile truck skidded on the wet pavement and swept him into the aperture. He fell head foremost to the bottom of the pit suffering fractured skull and a lacerated scalp. He was taken to the Park Hospital. The machine belonged to the Overland Freight and Transfer Company and was driven by Louis Simon, 253 Fifth avenue.

Thief Loots Pockets, But Leaves Trousers

When Harold W. M. Davidson of Vallejo awoke this morning in his room in the St. James hotel at Eighth and Clay streets and started to dress, he could not find his trousers. Finally he discovered them draped over the railing of the fire escape outside the open window. The pockets were turned inside out and $12 in coin and a gold ring had disappeared.

Room thefts were reported to the police by George Collins, 505 Washington street, and Frank Jones, 433 Washington street.

SHIP FLYING U. S. FLAG SINKS DIVER

Germans Make Charges of War Law Violation by British Boat.

BERLIN, Nov. 4.—The German Admiralty has furnished to The Associated Press correspondent the details of what is characterized as a second Baralong case, in which a British patrol-ship flying American colors, it is declared, after destroying submarine U-11, deliberately ran down a rowboat with the only two survivors of the undersea boat in an endeavor to remove the only witnesses, and has since prevented the intended victims, who were almost miraculously saved, from communicating the news to their own government.

The incident, according to the Admiralty, occurred on September 24, 1915, and has only just been learned of through an invalided prisoner transferred to Switzerland. The submarine, according to the Admiralty account, had halted in the neighborhood of the Selly Isles for examination of a steamer under the American flag, apparently an innocent merchantman. The steamer ostensibly prepared to lower a boat, but when the submarine had approached to within 300 yards, the supposed merchantman suddenly opened concealed ports and began firing from two cannon and also with rifles, the American flag flying the whole time, the account continues.

The submarine, irreparably damaged, went under, but was able to come to the surface later for an instant and Lieutenant Groompton, severely wounded, and Petty Officer Golan managed to crawl out through an open hatch before the submarine sank forever. The sole survivors were the two men, who were rescued by a British patrol-ship. The wreckage of the boat, not to save, but to ram it, placing a lookout in the steamer's bow to facilitate accurate steering. The Germans at the last moment sprang from the boat and clung to the wreckage of it for a half hour, when the steamer finally picked them up.

Fraternities to Limit Freshmen's Initiation

PALO ALTO, Nov. 4.—Stanford fraternities will not be allowed to initiate freshmen until the second semester, and then only upon the provocation that only such freshmen who fail to get 75 per cent of their first semester's hours, if the constitution of the inter-fraternity conference is adopted as written.

Thus far only three fraternities have voted against the measures while nine have voted for it. The measure will undoubtedly carry as there are still eight fraternities to be heard from and only two more favorable votes are needed. SUSPECTS ARE HELD. Elton T. Hunt and John Broucek, who were arrested October 25 while in the act of burglarizing a Twelfth-street business house, and who later confessed to a series of burglaries in Oakland, were held to answer this morning by Police Judge George Samuels on $2000 each. The specific burglary, for which they are to be tried was committed October 8 at the tailoring establishment of G. K. Suzuki, 1711 Telegraph avenue.

High Honor for U.S. Air Fighters

American Squadron Is Sent to Somme Front

GRAND HEADQUARTERS FRENCH ARMIES, Nov. 4.—Following a month's hard fighting at Verdun, the American aviation squadron attached to the French army has been transferred to the Somme front, now the center of the greatest aerial activity. The American flyers, after several days of comparative quiet on the Verdun front, took part in the reconnaissance that preceded the French victory at Verdun. They added General Nivelle in the bold dash that won back Fort Douaumont and Fort Vaux.

Their transfer to the Somme front at this time is considered the highest possible mark of France's confidence in the ability of the Americans.

NEW YORK JURIST FOR BIRTH CONTROL

Suspends Case Against Mother of Six, Who Stole to Get Food.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Leaders of the movement to obtain a modification of the laws which prohibit the dissemination of birth control information are lauding Judge Wadhams of New York for a decision he has just handed down in the court of general sessions. Judge Wadhams suspended sentence upon a woman who pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary. The woman declared that she was compelled to steal to obtain bread for her six children, the youngest of whom was ten months old. Her husband has been unable to obtain employment because he was suffering from tuberculosis.

After discussing the condition of the husband and his inability to care for his family, Judge Wadhams made the following statement: Nevertheless he goes on becoming the father of children who have very little chance under the conditions to be anything else but tubercular and themselves growing up to repeat the process with society. There is no law against that. But we have not only no birth regulation in such cases, but if information is given with respect to birth regulation, people are brought to the bar of justice for it. There is a law they violate.

Judge Wadhams pointed out that many nations of Europe have adopted birth regulation with seemingly excellent results. He queried whether Americans have taken as common sense a view of the matter as they might.

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK, FEVERISH CHILD

Look, Mother! Is Tongue Coated, Breath Hot and Stomach Sour?

Harmless 'Fruit Laxative' Best to Clean Tender Liver and Bowels.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—it full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Prohibition Is Right

Morally Right

"THINK!" of the human cost of the Saloon!—the tragedies of liquor, the drunken husbands, broken homes, neglected children caused by "booze."

"THINK!" of the young girls ruined through wine in the cafes and French restaurants.

"THINK!" of the warm-hearted and even brilliant men you know who have gone wrong through drink.

"THINK!" of the bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked boys, that the saloon must in some way secure as its customers if it is to keep on living the next ten years.

Any business or social custom that wrecks and destroys human life the way alcohol does is WRONG. It ought to be made an outlaw.

"Of the three national curses, morphine, cocaine and alcohol, the greatest is alcohol," says the Toronto Department of Public Health in its bulletin for October 1, 1915.

"Personal Liberty" ceases in the presence of an evil which curses not only those who drink, but reaches its grim hand into your home and mine, adds to our taxes and condemns even innocent generations yet unborn to lives of misery.

Socially Right

"THINK!" of the social cost of the Saloon! Alcohol causes 25 per cent of the poverty, 37 per cent of the almshouse population, 45 per cent of the child destitution and 50 percent of the crimes (exclusive of drunkenness, mind you) in the United States. Dr. Rosanoff of Clark University says: Alcohol also causes 25 per cent of the insanity.

"After eight months' experience, Spokane warns California that prohibition means a loss of population in your jails, your poorhouses, your hobo camps and your dives. It means less business for policemen, divorce lawyers and bad-bill collectors. It means more money in savings banks, more food for the babies and more smiles in the homes." So says the Spokane Chronicle which fought prohibition two years ago, but has been converted by seeing how prohibition works.

Arrests in Seattle the first six months under prohibition were 5,444 as against 11,288 the corresponding six months of the year Seattle was wet.

And if you are afraid No. 1 may too greatly hasten the death of the dying and decadent wine-grape industry, you can at least vote for No. 2 which, while prohibiting the public drinking place will not injure the wine-grape industry, as 95 per cent of all wine made here is sold outside the State. But No. 2 will shut up every saloon and cafe and other public drinking place, without touching the vineyardist.

Economically Right

"THINK!" of the economic cost of the Saloon! The bill-boards have been proclaiming that "293,000 bread-winners will lose their livelihood" if California goes dry. IT'S A LIE! That statement, if true, would mean one person in every ten in the State of California is in the booze business. It isn't so. It is absurdly false.

"THINK!" what will be done, under prohibition, with the money which now goes for booze! Will it be thrown into the sea? Hardly! It will be spent for children's shoes, better food, clothes, phonographs, automobiles.

AND the statistical abstract of the United States says that for every dollar invested in the average industry four times as much raw material is required, four times as much wages are paid, four times as many workers are employed as is the case in the liquor industry.

THIS SIMPLY MEANS that liquor is keeping many men out of jobs every day the saloon is open, and unfitting many more to even hold the jobs they have.

7165 NEW SAVINGS BANK ACCOUNTS were opened in Seattle the first six months after Washington went dry!

NOTE—Sunday Morning at 11 Mr. Palmer will speak at Plymouth Church on "Two Sides of a Debate—a Candid and Sane Review of the Prohibition Question."

DEUTSCHLAND STATUS MAY BE CHANGED

Officials in Washington Hear That Armed U-Boat Coming to Act As Escort for Cargo Diver on Homeward Voyage

Belief Expressed That England Will Renew Protest Against This Country Consenting to Any Submarine Coming Here

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Washington officials are today somewhat puzzled as to the status of the Deutschland, should reports that the U boat will be escorted back to Germany by a fighting submarine prove correct. Belief was expressed in some quarters that if the two submarines should act in concert it would greatly strengthen the British contention that submarines are always to be held in suspicion as vessels of warlike character. There was no doubt, it was said, that the British would hold the joining of the submarines to be prima facie evidence of warlike intention. The unarmed U boats, it was pointed out, posing as a peaceful merchantman, could, through their ability to escape detection, give valuable assistance to the war submarine.

The U-57, German battle submarine, if headed for the vicinity of New London, is expected to hover just beyond the three-mile limit, waiting for Captain Koenig.

Should further sinking of British vessels occur off the New England coast at a time when it was known the Deutschland with an armed escort was in the vicinity, a real issue might be precipitated between the United States and Great Britain regarding the admission of submarines to neutral waters, it was feared.

U-57 EXPECTED.
NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 4.—The German armored submarine U-57, sister ship of the U-55, which recently sank five vessels off the New England coast, will convey the undersea freighter Deutschland on her return trip to Germany.

"This was the gist of a statement made by Captain Paul Koenig, commander of the Deutschland," added the skipper, "if the U-57 made her appearance off the coast while I am in port. You cannot tell what the German government may do."

The U-57, Captain Koenig intimated, left Bremen October 13, three days after the Deutschland's sailing.

CRUISERS IN WAIT.
Captain Koenig said he might be ready to start his homeward dash within the next ten days, but denied a report that he would go to sea by way of the Cape of Good Hope.

Rumors were in constant circulation here today of the presence of British and French cruisers off Black Island, No Man's Land and Nantucket Shoals, but these reports could not be confirmed from reliable sources.

The Deutschland completed discharging her cargo at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The greatest care was exercised to prevent outsiders from seeing the work of unloading.

'Idle Wives' Teaches Men Lesson; Play Remarkable

MARY MACLAREN, STAR OF THE FILM PRODUCTION "IDLE WIVES."

"Miniature Intolerance," Say Critics, Who Have Seen New Film

The Universal Film Company presents a subject tomorrow at the Broadway entitled "Idle Wives," which will cause more "agreeing with" than discussion, for in this photo-drama of truth, those who see it who are addicted to some of the habits that the picture is trying to improve, will find an eye-opener that no book or words can teach. For years we have been seeing the slums in these so-called vice pictures, but we have never really seen society hit as we see the upper class shown in "Idle Wives."

Lots Weber and Phillips Smalley are the stars in this intensely interesting picture. When "Intolerance" struck New York City it gave us four tremendous subjects shown in one story by the masterful hand of Griffith. "Idle Wives" is a miniature "Intolerance," for it produces four pictures in one story, but the four subjects are practically the same. At any rate, it gives you food for thought and much mind chasing to remember each and every individual subject.

The part that will appeal to all will be the true story of the society woman left alone. Some men think all they have to do to marry a woman, give her a ring, bed and board, and that is all a woman needs in this world. The sooner the men wake up to the fact that these are not the only things they get married for, the happier homes there will be. In most of these so-called moral teaching films it has always been the cry that young girls and boys should see the picture, but in this case it will do some married men good, and a whole lot of married women good, to take a trip to the Broadway Theater and give the "O. O." to "Idle Wives."

Indians Are Vanishing Through Intermarriage

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 4.—Although the Indian birthrate is increasing and the Indian death rate is decreasing in this country, the Indian will be extinct through intermarriage with whites, Dr. L. C. Hall, for forty years a missionary at Fort Berthold Indian Reservation in North Dakota, told the American Missionary Association here.

Heavy Loss Reported by Fresno Growers

FRESNO, Nov. 4.—That between 25 and 30 per cent of the 1915 muscat grape crop, valued between two and two and one-half million dollars, is a total loss to the raisin industry, as the result of the early rains, was announced here last night by Wylie M. Giffen, president of the California Associated Raisin Company. Wineries have purchased some of the damaged grapes to the extent of $1,000,000.

OBJECT OF POLICE SEARCH FOUND DEAD

Indications Man Committed Suicide After Twice Attacking Woman.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 4.—W. L. Porter, for whom the police of this city and Sheriff Pratt of Ancker have been searching in connection with an alleged assault on Mrs. Wynette Wright, was found dead yesterday in a deserted farm near here with a bullet hole in his right temple. Near the body lay an open knife, two vials containing poison and a revolver with one empty chamber. According to the police, Porter, angered by the supposed interference of Mrs. Wright with personal plans, went to the Wright home on the night of October 17. Mrs. Wright heard him step onto the sleeping porch where she lay in bed. She bounded up and grappled with him. He struck her with a hammer, then grasped an axe and swung at her several times. Mrs. Wright dropped unconscious and Porter, after setting fire to the house, fled. Street car men saw the flames and extinguished them before any damage was done.

On October 23 Porter is alleged to have again visited the house and shot twice at Mrs. Wright but missed her. While playing about the old farm house two little girls found Porter's body.

Many Sign Roster of Transportation Club

Twenty-eight charter members have signed the roster of the new Transportation Club, formed within the membership boundaries of the Chamber of Commerce. Railroad men of those connected with the transportation of passengers and merchandise from city to city are eligible. Present members believe that before the end of the year is in sight that their ranks will be greatly strengthened by many new additions.

Joseph King, Joseph Caine and Eugene Bowles, Chamber of Commerce officials, were elected honorary members. The twenty-eight men in session, elected the following officers:

President, William. Merriman, Southern Pacific; first vice-president, F. L. Hanna, Santa Fe; second vice-president, L. H. Rodebaugh, Oakland and Antioch; third vice-president, G. H. Campbell, Wells Fargo; secretary-treasurer, R. A. Poonch, Southern Pacific; executive committee, Lance Richardson, Southern Pacific, chairman; J. Harry Brown, Key Route; W. B. Townsend, Western Pacific; H. V. Blasdel, Union Pacific; John McEwing, California Transportation Company.

Longshoremen's Strike in Honolulu Ended

HONOLULU, (T. H.), Nov. 4.—The strike here of union longshoremen, which went into effect September 13, was ended yesterday when the strikers (Japanese) voted to return to work. The Hawaiian dock laborers who had struck in sympathy with the Japanese also returned to work.

The employers handled all the cargoes that offered regardless of the strike, and, although the strikers go back to work at an increased wage, the advance was not as great as the unionists asked, and their demand for closed shop conditions was not granted. The employers regard the outcome of the struggle as an employer victory.

Injured Officer May Be Put on Retirement

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Injury sustained by Captain William B. Bennett, Jr., U. S. A., just when he was recovering from a protracted illness at the Letterman General Hospital at the Presidio may cause his retirement from the army, according to orders from Washington. The officer must appear before the retiring board for examination.

While in convalescent condition, Captain Bennett was hit by an automobile near the Presidio while waiting for a street car. His injuries were the means of delaying his recovery by several months' time. The automobile was without a driver at the time of the collision.

Learns English Watching 'Movies' German Youth, Passion for Films, Studies

PALO ALTO, Oct. 4.—Learning to read and write English by studying the captions on pictures at the "movies" is the latest. It has been accomplished by Martin Numann, a 19-year-old German lad, who in two years has mastered the English language in this manner. Today he speaks the language intelligently and reads well. And all this because he has an intense love for the movies. Numann is now the protégé of a number of Stanford students, who found him wandering around the campus, stranded and "broke," and looking for work. They not only found a job for him, but furnished him with new clothes.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 4.—One man alleged to be a smuggler was shot and killed and another was severely wounded late last night by Deputy Customs Inspector W. H. Evans, according to a report received by the police. The men are said to have been detected as they were approaching the city, and when ordered by Evans to halt tried to escape. Evans opened fire, hitting the two men, whose names have not been learned. Thirty this of opium, according to the police, were recovered. The drug, it is alleged, was brought over the line from Tijuana, Mex.

City Planner Lays Out Palo Alto Entrance

PALO ALTO, Nov. 4.—Charles H. Cheney of Berkeley, city planning expert employed by Palo Alto, submitted plans to the Chamber of Commerce last night for a long, broad plaza, extending across the railroad from the Circle and for a subway under the Southern Pacific tracks just off Hawthorne avenue. The plaza would mean a duplication of the Circle at the entrance of the university grounds. The large open space would be paved and flanked on the north and south with buildings having arcades. The Chamber of Commerce members approved the plans and will urge the city council to adopt them. Mr. Cheney has been employed by the city to beautify the entrance to Palo Alto and at the same time make plans to add traffic and reduce accidents at the railway crossings.

Schools Helped 'Dry' Vote, Speaker Says

"It is not the anti-saloon agitator who is responsible for the fight against the traffic," said W. E. Coffman, who addressed a shop meeting in West Berkeley in favor of Amendments 1 and 2. He continued:

It is the teacher in the public schools who for the past generation has been telling the children that the use of alcohol is injurious, and in every way bad for the health of the person using it. The children have believed the school teacher, and now that they are men and women with the ballot, they are eager to vote the whole traffic out of business.

In the college and university, the students have been taught the same thing, and have learned further that many grave social evils are closely allied with the traffic. The recent straw vote at the University of California showed that the women of the university favored the proposed amendments four or five to one, and that a large majority of the men took the same position.

As to the matter of employment, if the city of Berkeley wished to do so, it might employ a thousand men as policemen, and put an officer on every corner. In this way the city would be giving employment to a thousand men, and supporting possibly a thousand families, but the expense would be a terrible drain upon the community which would be paying the bills.

J. P. Baldwin, Pioneer, Is Called by Death

J. P. Baldwin, who died on Tuesday at his residence, 150 Kempton avenue, Oakland, was 84 years of age. Baldwin was a pioneer of California, coming to this state in 1854 and settling with his brother, Robert Baldwin, in San Ramon, Contra Costa county. After remaining in California several years he returned to the east, and there married Cornelia A. More, a sister of the late H. H. More, and the late A. P. More of this city. He for many years made his home in Otley, Iowa, and from there he removed to Des Moines in 1892, and to Oakland in 1902, in which city he made his home.

He is mourned by two daughters, Martha and Margaret Baldwin. His wife died in 1914. Among other relatives that survive are a sister, Mrs. Annie Hammond of Des Moines, and Mary B. Long of Harlan, Iowa.

Auto Dealer Halts When Officer Shoots

Edwin Dowd, owner of an automobile repair shop at Broadway and Twenty-sixth street, is under arrest on a charge of grand larceny preferred by G. C. Laird, a salesman, whose motor car was stolen on October 25. Laird found his car yesterday afternoon parked near the City Hall and informed Police Inspector Wood.

E. J. Clark and O. B. Clark of 2007 Grove street, who were in the car, declared that they had purchased the machine a few days ago from Dowd. To prove this statement, the Clarks drove Wood and Laird to Dowd's place of business.

At the sight of Wood's police star Dowd took to his heels, but came to a halt when Wood fired two shots over his head.

Uniformity Is Plan of City Health Men

For the purpose of effecting uniformity of inspections and reports an organization of the health officers of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Piedmont and Hayward has been formed with Dr. F. W. Bowring of Hayward as temporary chairman and Dr. Kirby R. Smith as temporary secretary. Reports on communicable diseases, dairy and food inspections and other data will be standardized for greater efficiency in the exchange of information between the different communities.

The next meeting of the new organization will be held at the Key Route Inn on November 9, when the tenement house law will be discussed.

Schoolgirls Are Hostesses at Affair

Dressed as cooks and Japanese maidens, the young girls of the Merriman school in Piedmont, most successfully presided over a fair this afternoon for the benefit of the East Oakland Settlement. The bazaar, which is an annual event at the school, will continue until 10 o'clock in the evening.

The wares to be disposed of—handicrafts, sweets and refreshments—were the contributions of the students who have been planning the affair for weeks, under the direction of a committee headed by Miss Jewel Gardiner. Other committee chairmen are: Miss Marilyn Williams, chairman; Miss Sara Reynolds, Miss Fern Upton, Miss Leslie Smith, Miss Pauline Davis, Miss Charlotte Scott, Miss Grace Cooper, Miss Elsie Hotal, Miss Vine Lourey, Miss Gertrude Strunt, Miss Dorothy Rock, Miss Cornelia Harrington, Miss Garland Knight, Miss Alice Baxer, chairman; Miss Corlie Crane, Tea, Miss Page Burlington, chairman, assisted by the Misses Grace Ziegenfuss, Dorothea Ahlers, Sybil Willis and Jean Webster; kitchen, Miss Florence Bogart, chairman, assisted by Misses Agnes Cook, Harold post and Santa Claus fish pond, Miss Ethel Dukes, assisted by the Misses Elizabeth Shields, Consuelo Osgood and Marion Ish.

Governor Names Men for State Commission

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4.—Governor Hiram W. Johnson today named Daniel C. Murphy, president of the State Federation of Labor, R. K. Saliz, a San Francisco business man, and Chester H. Rowell of Fresno, as advisory members of the State Social Insurance Commission. The positions are without salary.

The Social Insurance Commission was authorized by the legislature of 1915 for the purpose of making an investigation of conditions relating to the general subject of social insurance. This investigation is underway and data is being secured on the subjects of mother's pensions, old age pensions, health insurance and several others.

Sensational Charges Fill Divorce Papers

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Bristling with sensational charges, which include affidavits, quiet trips to San Jose and Los Angeles, a mysterious apartment in Sacramento and acts of alleged personal humiliation, a suit for separate maintenance has been filed in the superior court against Louis Albert Larsen, publisher of the Pacific Coast Builder, by his wife, Pannie Irene Larsen.

Mrs. F. W. Carey of the Parkview apartments, Eleventh and K streets, Sacramento, is the fair charmer whose personality, it is alleged, lured Larsen away from his home and fireside and resulted in his being named as defendant in a $500 maintenance suit. The suit in which Mrs. Carey's name appears as the alleged affiant was filed on statutory grounds.

Broken Garter Ruse Is Snare to Storekeepers

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Beware of the woman with a broken garter. She's the latest addition to the city's criminal element.

Already she has robbed half a dozen merchants in the Western Addition. She operates cleverly and the police have been unable to catch her.

Fashionably gowned, she enters a store to make a small purchase. Suddenly she blanches. "Oh, my garter broke," she confides to the storekeeper. "May I go in the back room and fix it?"

Her appeal banishes all suspicion of her motives. After she is gone coin and merchandise are missed by her victims.

APPOINTMENT MAY END MARTIAL LAW

Lieut.-Gen. Bryan T. Mahon to Take Command in Ireland.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—According to the Yorkshire Herald, the government has decided to recall Major-General Sir John Maxwell from Ireland, where he is in command of the British forces, and he will be succeeded by Lieutenant-General Bryan T. Mahon, lately in command of the western frontier of Egypt.

DUBLIN, via London, Nov. 4.—It has been known generally in Dublin for some time that Major-General Sir John Maxwell would be recalled and replaced by Lieutenant-General Mahon. It is expected here that martial law will be withdrawn with the change in command and a new effort for voluntary recruiting is also expected. Major Price, chief intelligence officer at Irish military headquarters, it is also believed here, will be retired. It is reported that untold interned prisoners are to be released on signing an undertaking not to engage in seditious actions, contributing to interfere with the successful carrying on of the war.

Row Over Horse Is Cause of Lawsuit

SAN JOSE, Nov. 4.—In department three of the superior court, Judge John H. Welch presiding, early testimony was introduced in the suit for $5000 damages brought by Oscar Prendergrass against J. M. McKiernan. Prendergrass charges false imprisonment and demands a jury trial. He was the principal witness heard in the proceedings yesterday. Among other statements in his testimony Prendergrass said that about the middle of September, 1915, he came to San Jose from San Francisco and hired a horse and buggy from McKiernan. He said that he drove the horse to a farm near Alum Rock park and that on the return the horse fell and injured its knee and shoulder, and that when he turned the horse in McKiernan demanded $25 damages. He said that he did not at that time have that amount of money with him, and that in default he was placed in jail, and was only released upon his promise to return in the morning with the money. After that when he was unable, the next morning, to get the amount demanded he was again placed in jail. He was again released within a few hours and immediately started proceedings against McKiernan.

Hold Suspect Who Shot Bakery Employee

Barco Pandrone, who is held by the Oakland police for the shooting of Valentine Negro early yesterday morning, is now in detention in the insanity ward of the emergency hospital, pending his examination by a lunacy commission. It is the opinion of the police that the prisoner is feigning insanity in order to escape the penalty of his act.

The shooting took place at 1:30 o'clock in the morning, when Negro, who is an employee of Angelo Leonetti, proprietor of the Pugno Bakery, at 500 Myrtle street, saw Pandrone coming from the bakery. In answer to Negro's query as to his action Pandrone drew a revolver and fired three shots, two of which lodged in Negro's body.

San Jose Physician Given Heavy Sentence

SAN JOSE, Nov. 4.—Dr. A. L. Gibson, who was recently convicted of murder in performing a criminal operation upon Mrs. Madeline Silveria, was yesterday sentenced to twenty-seven years' imprisonment in Department 1 of the Superior court by Judge William F. Beaudry. The Court also denied the motion of P. A. Gabriel, attorney for Gibson, for a new trial. Gabriel contended that the Court had committed several errors in giving the charge to the jury. Archie Bowden, deputy district attorney, prosecuted the case.

To the Voters of California

There are two principal candidates for President of the United States in the coming election. One is President Woodrow Wilson, Democrat, and the other is Charles Evans Hughes, Republican.

There are two candidates for the office of United States Senator from California. One is George S. Patton of Los Angeles, Democrat; the other is Governor Hiram W. Johnson, a registered Progressive, who secured the Republican nomination in the August primary election.

Although a registered Progressive, Governor Johnson, having the Republican nomination, is supporting Mr. Hughes for President. Mr. Patton, a life-long Democrat, is supporting President Wilson because he sincerely and honestly believes in the Wilson policies.

Mr. Hughes not only severely criticises President Wilson, but condemns unsparingly all the Wilson policies. Governor Johnson, a Progressive, supports Mr. Hughes. He does not take issue with Mr. Hughes in any particular. Unless Governor Johnson is insincere in his support of Mr. Hughes, he, too, is placed in the position of condemning President Wilson.

Four years ago, by the action of Governor Johnson, the Republicans of California were denied the right of voting for their party candidate for President. They had the alternative of voting for one of two men for President, neither of whom was a Republican.

In the present campaign for the United States Senatorship, Governor Johnson has again juggled the election laws so that the Republicans of the State are prevented from voting for a Republican, as Governor Johnson is registered as a Progressive. The voters of California can vote for one of two men for United States Senator, neither of whom is a Republican.

Governor Johnson is still a member of the Progressive party, and he refuses to leave the Progressive party and become a Republican. Mr. Patton is where he has always been—in the Democratic party.

You have your choice between these two men for Senator. If you are a Republican, you cannot vote for a Republican for Senator, because no man of your party is a candidate. If you believe in President Wilson, you should take his advice and vote for George S. Patton.

In a telegram from Baltimore, October 25, to the Patton Campaign Committee, PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON said:

May I not express my very great interest in the election of Mr. George S. Patton to the United States Senate. It would hearten friends of such policies as the present Administration has been promoting throughout the whole country if by his election the voters of California should give so unmistakeable an endorsement to what has been accomplished.

President Wilson needs a man of the ability and the experience of Mr. Patton to assist United States Senator James D. Phelan in furthering the progressive programme of the Administration. Senator Phelan has actively supported Mr. Patton on the stump in this campaign. Senator Phelan says:

"It stands to reason that two men of the same dominant party in Washington can do more for California than one man."

NAVAL BIDS DISAPPOINTING.

Government officials estimated that the price of material and labor necessary in the construction of a warship had increased about 30 per cent during the last three years, so there was not a great deal of surprise over the fact that the bids submitted for the building of the new battleships, battle cruisers, destroyers and submarines authorized in the building program adopted in the last session of Congress, were uniformly high. It was known that the new building would be more costly than any had been in the past. However, some of the bids were unsatisfactory as to price and the cost limit which was placed on the several ships kept out several bidders.

But big disappointment to naval officials, however, has been the time limit imposed by the bidders. No firm agreed to construct the battleships and cruisers of the dreadnaught class under three years. This is unsatisfactory to the country. It has been clearly demonstrated that great warships can be built in less than three years. The public knows that the reason private firms are not willing to undertake quicker construction is that they have private contracts in hand which to carry out makes it undesirable to complete navy building with normal expedition. They want to put government work aside as much as possible so that they may do quick work for the private interests.

Perhaps they are not to be greatly blamed for this. But no one doubts that if sufficient facilities existed in government navy yards to take care of all the work authorized by Congress, private plants would bid to do the work in a much shorter time than they have specified.

Probably the government would not wish to go on record as declaring that a sufficiently urgent national emergency exists to justify the taking over of private shipbuilding facilities and compelling private yards to work exclusively on naval craft, which it might do if it so wished. Therefore, the country will have to resign itself to feeling regret that the situation is made more distressing by the fact that the administration has flunked in shipbuilding during the last three years. Otherwise the California, the keel of which was laid at Mare Island a few days ago, and her sister ship being built at the Brooklyn navy yard, would now be half completed.

THE BANKRUPT TREASURY.

A practically bankrupt national treasury will face the voters on election day. According to the calculation made by the national Republican congressional committee, less than $6,000,000 in cash will be available to meet current expenses of the government. Reports of the treasury balance given out for publication on last Saturday gave the balance as $153,000,000. But this balance included $55,570,368 to the credit of disbursing officers to meet obligations already contracted for, $45,171,682 for the redemption of national bank notes, and $17,240,935 in subsidiary silver coin, silver bullion, minor and unsorted currency which is not available to meet government obligations. Deducting these items, there was left last Saturday the sum of $5,787,570.

At the present rate the treasury deficit is growing in the amount of $1,000,000 a day, and at the close of the current fiscal year will amount to $300,000,000. Beside a bankrupt treasury on election day, the voters will recall that they are burdened with heavy and unprecedented direct taxes and are facing the prospect of a bond issue in time of peace.

MEN AND MILITARY SERVICE.

The recruiting officer of the New York National Guard has secured by advertisement thirty girls, "all pretty and stylishly but modestly dressed," to act as recruiting "sergeants" and help obtain new enlistments for the national guard.

Our advice to the California National Guard concerning this experiment is, "Don't." The pretty and stylishly dressed girls may be happy, from purely patriotic motives, to go out and get recruits for the army, but the service of the nation in uniform should not be made to depend upon feminine persuasion.

If California is forced to adopt the New York device for recruiting the organized militia, it will be a humiliating confession that masculine patriotism and public spirit is falling off. If a company of pretty girl "sergeants" is necessary to bring the regiments up to their required strength, military service will no longer be voluntary.

We might as well pass a compulsory service law and be done with it.

COTTON ENTHRONED AGAIN.

Two years ago the Southern cotton-growing States thought they faced disaster. Their great staple was selling at ruinously low prices and the foreign market looked to be barred, at least temporarily. The growers considered that they would be fortunate if they were able to sell half their 1914 crop. Then it was that Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo made his spectacularly ridiculous offer to loan the Southern cotton growers $30,000,000 to finance them against a $500,000,000 dollar loss.

Now the situation has a different appearance. Cotton is quoted at 20 cents a pound. At a conservative estimate this year's crop, including seed, will be worth to the Southern growers at least $1,250,000,000. In addition there are about 3,000,000 bales brought over from previous crops, which will be sold at the prevailing prices and add $250,000,000 more to this year's receipts. Another item of cotton "wealth" will be added by the manufacturers. Southern mills will this year consume about 4,000,000 bales, and as the value added in manufacturing is equal to the cost of the raw material, $360,000,000 will be received and distributed by the mill operators.

Commenting upon the billion and a half receipts from the raw products, the Manufacturers' Record has this to say of the transition of cotton from the "pauper" class:

"That sum, staggering in amount, greater by hundreds of millions than the South ever before received for any crop of cotton, will have a tremendous effect upon every line of business. It will stimulate speculation, just as the influx of gold for iron and steel and war munitions has stimulated speculation in the East and West. It will also stimulate extravagance, as has been the case in the East and West. But at the same time it will vivify the business interests of the South, and if wisely used will lay the foundation for great prosperity and expansion during the coming years."

It is difficult to overestimate the influence which this inflow of money will have upon the South, because, whether the cotton is shipped out in its raw state or in the manufactured product from Southern mills, it means an influx of outside money of a billion and a half dollars at the start, and the added amount of several hundred million dollars which will come from the finished product turned out of Southern textile mills. Unlike a corn crop, valuable as it is, which is used at home, it means new money coming from outside, from the North and the West and from Europe. It means many times as much influence upon business and upon stimulation of all activities, as would the raising of a corn crop equal in value.

This condition of prosperity should not tempt the people of the South to abandon their recently formed plan to pursue diversified farming. They should not relapse to the former custom of putting all their eggs in one basket. The present high prices is a war condition and represents the reaction from the neglect of cotton manufacturers in Europe during 1914 and 1915. Diversified agriculture is the farmers' best safety-first measure.

Consular reports from Berne contain the news that the Swiss potato crop is short and the people of Switzerland are being obliged to purchase large quantities of corn and rice abroad. This is probably preliminary to a government bulletin explaining the higher cost of living as regards potatoes, rice and corn.

THE WAR AND THE TARIFF.

(From the Chicago Tribune.)

The administration's apologists, who seek to deny that the war is mainly responsible for our current prosperity, are engaged in belittling munitions exports. They attempt to ignore the report of the Department of Commerce itself, which shows that 53 per cent of our total exports in 1916 was of munitions. They attempt to deny that this enormous amount of trade furnished the stimulus which in 1915 developed our whole domestic trade. They affect a lack of knowledge that the European factories have been cut off from the South American, African, and Oriental markets, and that in those fields the United States has prospered, because there has been no competition.

Worst of all, they forget what the war has done to our own domestic trade. Here has been the most colossal benefit of all.

Our exports of munitions, now well over $2,000,000,000, exceed our exports of non-munitions. Moreover, in their manufacture there has entered a horde of domestic industries. Before a shell is loaded aboard ship it has engaged the attention of an assembly shop, of finishing shops, of rolling mills, of foundry, of smelter, of mine. It has passed through the chemical laboratory, through the powder mill, through the cotton field. It has furnished traffic for several railroads. It has employed cotton pickers and planters, miners and engineers, skilled labor and day labor, and clerical labor. It has engaged capital.

The war has prevented Europe from competing with us in South America. Without competition we have prospered there.

Likewise the war has prevented Europe from competing in our own markets, and our factories, which the Underwood tariff placed in competition with Europe's cheap labor factories, now are able to pay good wages and make a profit, because they do not have to compete any longer with low-priced labor.

In other words, the war has served the exact purpose of a protective tariff on an enormous scale.

The Underwood tariff, the first legislation of the Democratic administration, swept away the protection by means of which American industry had grown up and American workmen had prospered. The disaster of 1914 followed. European factories poured their duty-free goods into our markets. Imports established new high records.

The war will end. With its termination the effective protection it affords to us will end. For that protection we must find a substitute, and the only substitute is the protective tariff.

To the protective tariff the Democratic party is constitutionally opposed. To the protective tariff the Republican party is pledged. To obtain it now and avert a new panic far worse than that of 1914 America must take action on November 7. A vote for Hughes and a Republican Congress is a vote for American prosperity.

NOTES and COMMENT

The police of San Francisco are represented to be on watch for ten-sided dice. There is always some menace to virtue over there.

Another general rise in the price of foodstuffs impends. Consular reports are to the effect that the potato crop of Switzerland is below normal.

Candidate Hughes is a maker of epigrams himself. "Wilson in a muddle of a muddle" is a concentrated tabloid of the administration's dilemma.

After all, if the selling of water is not based on the quantity delivered it becomes one of the very few lines of business that are conducted on a haphazard basis.

Wisdom from Avalon per the Islander: "The former: A discontented person who has soured on bread and now wants a new boarding house so that he can grab off two pieces of pie for himself."

If the representation of the Hanford Sentinel is so, a pen wiper will be an appropriate Christmas present for the White House: "Six Americans lost their lives in the Marina sinking. Wilson's pen never gets a chance to dry."

The Grass Valley Union recognizes a job when it sees it. "Mrs. David Starr Jordan and a few other women at Stanford have essayed the standardizing of women's dress. Those were puny tasks that Hercules confronted."

Long Beach has adopted a new and ingenious plan to discourage auto speeders. Those convicted of this form of dissipation are to be sentenced to the official woodpile, which they are not to be permitted to desert till their account is wiped out.

"Record Smashed by Mint's Output," is a heading to a San Francisco item. And it required the most strenuous effort on the part of the entire California delegation and all the friends it could muster to prevent a Democratic administration putting the mint out of commission.

The Goldfield Tribune approves of Billie's latest stunt: "We are glad that Billie Burke has a baby of her own. That little one is Billie's real and most glorious 'romance.' Stage success has nothing that can be compared with a baby growing up into girlhood and womanhood."

A Washington correspondent reviews memories of Belva Lockwood, who has just celebrated her eighty-sixth birthday, and who is the only woman who has ever been a candidate for president of the United States. She ran in 1884 as the candidate of the Women's Equal Rights party.

The Redding Searchlight gives the best available authority for a volcano's name: "The literary name for it is Lassen Peak. The common or garden name of Mt. Lassen is authoritatively tabooed by Prof. Diller, the only man who has ever felt the volcano's pulse and looked at its tongue."

The Hanford Sentinel is probably ironical in the assertion that it must be a pleasant thought to Americans that French soldiers are adopting the custom of calling those bombs that are fired at them, and which fall to explode, as "Tankoes," because of the national inconclusiveness in its diplomacy.

The Fresno Republican is excited as usual about fiddling: "The plan to give private violin lessons in the public schools, for private tuition, paid privately to the teacher, and to buy the violins by private wholesale arrangement, through him, doubtless presents so many practical advantages that the school board was willing to adopt it for this particular case. But is it not a risky precedent?"

Stockton Mail's disquisition on a new coinage: "Fifty thousand new dimes have been turned loose from the San Francisco mint and we shall immediately begin to compare the new design with the old one and decide whether we like it or not. Since it was designed by Mr. Weinman, who gave us 'The Rising Sun' and 'Descending Night' of the exposition, I guess we can all take a chance at the new girl on it."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Oakland has just booked contracts for eight steel freighters aggregating 72,400 tons, for Norwegian shippers. At Long Beach the plan is to refuse all orders, because the yards are full now and it would take some work to increase their capacity. If the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce really wants to do something worth while for southern California, why does it not provide a $25,000,000 shipyard at Long Beach or Newport Beach? Such a plant would give employment to thousands of idle Democrats and would pay enormous dividends.—Santa Ana Blade.

A new chart, showing the southern California coast from San Diego to Point Pinos, and including Los Angeles harbor and Santa Catalina and Santa Barbara Islands, has just been issued by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey.—Avalon Islander.

The Prospect received this week a box of apples from Miss Phoebe Wilhelm of the Hornigra ranch, near Jesus Maria, that certainly were the real thing. The apples are of the Ben Davis variety and the ten in the box weighed ten pounds.—Calaveras Prospect.

The silverware grafters are still cleaning up the loose change around Modesto. The scheme worked is the old tontine proposition. A few win, but the majority lose and the tail-enders don't have a chance in the world. By that time, however, the slick ones are far away and no one wants to go to the trouble of having them arrested.—Modesto Herald.

THE KIND OF INDUSTRIAL DEFENSE NECESSARY

VOTES OF THE WAGE-EARNERS

By JAMES G. BLAINE.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Which minister's son will be elected Tuesday?

The evidence in favor of each is practically all in, and failing an unexpected eleventh hour upset, the verdict will be rendered on this evidence.

Will Hughes or Wilson be the titular head of the country for the next four years?

Labor can answer the question for the weight of its vote cast for one or the other of the nominees would overwhelmingly elect that one president.

The farmer's vote is important, but the labor vote is essential, to the success of either party.

Which party will the majority of the labor vote go to?

Will it be to Wilson because of the Adamson law? Or will other conditions turn it to Hughes?

Upon the great material prosperity of the country Democracy confidently rests its demand for Woodrow Wilson's reelection, for prosperity has always meant the continuation of the party in power.

By the same token hard times has always meant the defeat of the party in power.

If our present prosperity were as real as it is apparent, as diffuse as it is concentrated, there would be no question of the president's re-election, for there is no question of the overwhelming wealth of the country. No nation has ever had such great riches since history has been recorded.

But this deluge of wealth has come to the nation as a whole, and in great part at the expense of the majority of the individual units of the sum total of whom is that whole.

To each individual unit of this majority it is not prosperity, but calamity.

Unless his wages have been increased in greater ratio than the cost of living has increased, the wage earner can have had no share in these "good" times.

Some wages have been increased, but more have not; but in no case have wages been increased sufficiently to offset the greater cost of living in these prosperous times. The increase of the average wage to labor throughout the country has been small. The increase in the cost of living has been enormous.

Labor for what it receives in 1916 can purchase far less of what it actually needs to sustain life than it could in 1912.

The average wage earned in the country is today less than $600 a year, the average family of the wage earner five. For a family of this size compelled to keep the expense of living within such narrow limits, a penny more or less has a distinct and definite significance; the loss of a dollar in income means a reduction, of five dollars readjustment; of ten dollars deprivation.

The labor vote will come to the election with a shrinking wage, for the buying power of that wage lessens from day to day, because of the ever rising cost of the necessities of life.

Everything we put in or on us has risen in cost from 25 to 100 per cent or even more during the last year, and everything continues to rise. This increase in prices is very real and very vital to labor and is insistently brought to its attention with every purchase it makes.

When the average wage earner looks around his meagerly furnished table at the pinched and hungry faces of his insufficiently clad family, and dreads the effects of the cold of the coming winter months with coal rising $10 a ton, what will this present era of great prosperity mean to him?

Will labor vote for the Democratic nominee, when under a Democratic administration, it has seen the very necessities to life become luxuries, because of their almost prohibitive rise in price?

Labor's view of the present prosperous state of the country, as shown by its vote at the polls will be likely to afford Woodrow Wilson some mighty unpleasant reading on November 8.

THE SINGLE TAX PROPOSITION

By FRED W. FRY.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

The precise financial question which the farmers are to settle in their minds before voting on the single tax is whether it is advantageous to have the taxes taken off of their personal property and off of the improvements on their land, and instead thereof to have all the taxes so taken off, and more, placed upon lands alone.

The first thing to take into consideration is that all the taxes that were before upon land and upon personal property and improvements on land, together with millions of dollars of taxes now raised from other sources, will be levied upon land alone (amounting practically to a confiscation of all land).

The second thing to be considered is that the State taxes now collected on franchises (paid by railroads and other corporations) and the taxes on whiskey, tobacco, etc., the county fees, municipal licenses, etc., etc. (being on no particular tangible property), altogether amounting to about $30,000,000 yearly, together with about $34,000,000 more (the exact amount is immaterial) now collected from personal property and improvements, will be added to the tax on land, and which land owners would have to pay, all in addition to the heavy regular taxes heretofore paid on land.

These facts show beyond a doubt that land owners generally (with an occasional exception of an owner whose land is of little worth and whose improvements are great relatively), will be greatly injured if not absolutely ruined by the single tax, and the small owner in exactly the same proportion as the large owner.

The only question remaining for the farmer would seem to be whether or not, as claimed by the single taxers (when talking to farmers), the city land will have to pay a relatively much larger portion of the taxes than the farm land, and as to that the facts are that the proposed single tax provides that all lands shall be assessed according to their value (or use, regardless of what the use is) and occupation. Now, value for use and occupation determines market value and all other values both of city and country lands, and it is according to that value that all lands are now assessed (lands and improvements thereon being assessed separately but all charged in the tax against the land), so that the relative value and the relative taxes of city and country land, would remain practically the same, and the farmer would have to pay his proportionate part of the great general increase of taxes on land; and, in fact, more, because improvements would be untaxed, and city lands are improved 100 to 1 more than farm lands, and indirectly the farmer is made "the goat" as between the city and the country land owner, though both are "goats" from the owners of franchises, stocks, bonds, etc. Land owners would not be directly taxed on their improvements, etc., but the average farmer would pay far more tax on the land alone than he did before on his land, improvements and personal property.

No statement of fact or conclusion in the foregoing can be fairly questioned.

Oh, the world will be smiling instead of frowning.
If in passing on your way,
You hold yourself to a gentle mood
And toss it a big bouquet.
The words may seem prosy,
But the sentiment goes;
The world will seem rosy
If you hand it a cross.

Oh, the world it will seem cruel and all unjust
If the rose's grace you hide
And wield the briar with reckless thrust
As you bid men stand aside.
It's a circumstance plain,
Just as sure as you're born!
It will prick you again
If you hand it a thorn.

—Washington Star.

RESPONSE.

Oh, the world will be smiling instead of frowning.
If in passing on your way,
You hold yourself to a gentle mood
And toss it a big bouquet.
The words may seem prosy,
But the sentiment goes;
The world will seem rosy
If you hand it a cross.

The average land owner might well base his conclusion and his vote upon the foregoing absolute facts, and ignore the wholly unfounded, unsupported, unreasonable statements of the single tax theorists to the effect that the single tax would cure all human misfortunes and ailments, acute or chronic.

Further facts are unnecessary to the land owner in forming a conclusion, but some of the further facts affecting the matter are as follows:

The personal property and improvements (which would escape taxation) constitute only about five-fourteenths of the value of real and personal property including improvements.

Idle and poor lands, which pay but little more than taxes under the present laws, would, under the high single tax, be abandoned by the owners, who would cease to pay taxes thereon, and the land would be sold to the State, and such land would be worth less than the yearly taxes to anybody, and the taxes heretofore paid by the owners thereon would have to be paid by the owners of the better quality of land; and as land gradually came into State ownership the rate of tax would increase on private lands.

If all taxes should be placed on land, the products of the land would necessarily cost the producer more, and he would try to collect the additional cost from the consumer, and the consumer, in paying the extra cost, would lose more than he would theoretically gain from any of the other results of single tax.

The single tax is a proposition that the government turn in and rob one class of its citizens, to wit, land owners. It means (if adopted) that the foundation compact between government and citizen, to wit, that the citizen owes fealty, even to life itself, to his government (without which fealty no government could long continue to exist), and that in return for that fealty his government owes him protection in his life, his liberty and his property, is to be broken by the government itself by withholding that protection of property and by criminally taking that citizen's property without rendering any compensation therefor, the government thereby forfeiting the fealty of the citizens robbed and losing the confidence of all others.

The single tax, if carried out, would cause thousands of employers (whose capital in business is secured by mortgaging real property) to be broken up in business and forced to compete with their employees for labor in an overcrowded market.

Single tax would drive more people into bankruptcy in the State of California within six months after its passage than there have been before in the whole history of the state. It would result in thousands of elderly people, who, after a life of honest toil and economy, with their savings for old age invested in real property or mortgages on real property, being left destitute, thereby crowding the almshouses and swelling taxes. It would, in the destruction of land values, break the financial foundation of society and result in a train of evils so far-reaching in effect that scarcely a citizen would escape the hardships.

August, 1914—Recaptured by army authorities at Burlingame; returned to Alcatraz; released November, 1915.

December, 1915—Arrested in San Francisco for vagrancy.

February, 1916—Arrested at Fresno, petty larceny; sentenced to five months county jail.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Confessing to more than a score of crimes committed in Oakland and San Francisco in the last month, Walter Saunders, alias William Saunders, alias Laurence Sullivan, is in the city prison charged with assault to murder and robbery following his capture this morning after an exciting chase by the police. Several hours later Virgin Sartin, alleged accomplice of Saunders in his final crime, was arrested and booked on similar accusations.

Saunders is an ex-convict who has served a term in San Quentin penitentiary, in the military prison at Alcatraz and at several county jails on the Pacific coast. His career of law-breaking has extended since his desertion from the United States army in 1910 and culminated in a series of four holdups last night and early this morning.

FIREMAN SHOT.

His final escapade, which brought the police down upon him, was the shooting of William Gibbons, a marine fireman residing at the Evans hotel, 83 Broadway, who was held up near his lodgings by two men, struck on the head, shot and robbed of $4.

The report of the revolver attracted Corporal Hinrichs and Patrolmen McKevitt, Tracy and Quinn, who caught Saunders after a long pursuit. Gibbons, suffering from an ugly scalp wound but not fatally injured, was taken to the Harbor hospital.

Following Saunders' confession, made to Lieutenant Stephen Turner, the police, headed by Corporal George Duffy, arrested Sartin. Saunders' story of his "hellishness," as he calls his criminal activities, is one continued tale of petty thievery, robbery and disorderly conduct, punctuated with prison terms and a bit of honest labor. Up to last night, Saunders' single-handed he held up a man near the McAllister-street car barns and robbed him of 45 cents. Then switching to North Beach, he held up a second pedestrian, obtaining $1.50.

On Telegraph Hill a third man yielded 75 cents. Then he picked up Sartin, he claims, and with his aid attacked Gibbons.

WILL SERVE IN FRANCE

Stanford Men Enlist in Ambulance Service

Voluntarily risking death on the battlefields of Europe in the hazardous work of securing the wounded, students whose homes are in Oakland, Berkeley, Hayward, San Jose and other towns in the bay region are in the list of 100 Stanford University men who have signed up for American ambulance service in France. Among them are the finest types of manhood on the campus, physically capable of enduring the hardships they have to face at the front. They have the required knowledge of running and repairing automobiles, and of giving first aid to the injured.

Students of the bay region who have volunteered for Red Cross work in France are W. W. Crane Jr., 1002 Bella Vista avenue, a son of Deputy Sheriff W. W. Crane; H. M. Kent, O. G. Brun, both of Berkeley; H. L. Johnson, of Hayward; H. W. Wyckoff of San Francisco; L. S. Shipway, R. F. Rogers and J. D. M. Pherson, all of San Jose, and R. A. Smith, H. R. Hall and C. C. Kimball of Palo Alto.

J. H. Eastman, a junior student, held a meeting at the Sigma Chi fraternity house yesterday. He told the students of the hardships and tolls they would be called upon to face and the fact that they would see little of France in their stay there.

Besides the requirement of a knowledge of automobiles the recruits must be native born in America and must be at least six months. Some decided to enlist for the whole term of the war's duration.

Forty-eight of the hundred enlisted positively and definitely, while the remainder enlisted pending word from their parents. The project to send thirty or so men to France is backed by a number of business men of the bay region, who are interested in conducting American relief work. Other universities whose men have gone to the front include Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Princeton and Columbia.

Following is the list of Stanford men who enlisted:
